COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1921. No. 1.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 4, 1921, 12 o'clock M.

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the members of the Senate, together with the Senators-elect chosen at the last general election held on November 2, 1920, and at the special election held on December 21, 1920, assembled in the Senate chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) called the Senate to order at 12 o'clock noon.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Eternal God, unto Whom all hearts are open; from whom all blessings flow; we thank Thee for life, with all its opportunities and wonderful possibilities. Help us to dedicate our God-given faculties and talents to the great purpose of spreading confidence, courage and cheer among our fellow citizens in these trying days of reconstruction. Help us to realize that by doing unto others as we would they should do unto us we can best attain these worthy aims. To this end we commend to Thy favor His Excellency, the Governor, his official family and counsellors; the President and members of this Senate, and all its employees. We also commend to Thy love and comfort the relatives whose memories intuitively recall their deceased loved ones who actively participated in the deliberations of this Senate in its last session.

Help us all to so live that we may have a conscience void of offense both to God and man. And unto Thee, oh God, will be the honor and the glory forever. Amen.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE.

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to the newly elected President pro tempore by the Honorable William M. Hargest, President Judge of the Twelfth Judicial District.

The oath of office was accordingly administered.

The PRESIDENT. It gives me great pleasure to present to the Senate your newly elected President pro tempore for the session of 1921, the Honorable Frank E. Baldwin.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President and fellow Senators, I appreciate the high honor that you have conferred upon me, and I fully realize the importance of the obligation that I have assumed. I thank you most heartily for the confidence that you repose in me, and it is needless for me to say that it will be my ambition to fill the office in such a manner as will meet with the approval of my fellow Senators.

I will not consider it my prerogative as President pro tempore to attempt in any manner to influence the legislation that may be offered, but in the matter of legislation will consider it my duty to act from my seat in the Senate Chamber the same as every other Senator. It is possible that too much legislation may be enacted, and that we might be better serving our State if comparatively few new statutes were placed upon the books, and that the administrative departments were allowed to catch up with legislation, and I trust you will pardon the suggestion that I believe it will be to our credit and in the interest of the State if we get down to the work that will be before us in the session, and enact the necessary legislation, so that a short session may be assured. We hope that whatever is done in legislation, that it will be in the interest of our State.

We all have confidence in Pennsylvania We are proud of her achievements and of the position she occupies among the states. We want her to have the most advanced laws and the best administration of her laws of any state in the Union, and we believe that she does have. We do not think there is any occasion to apologize for Pennsylvania, looking at it from any angle that we choose. We believe that new legislation should be carefully considered, should be safe and sane, free from radicalism, socialism, paternalism, and from every other extreme. We hope that the coming session will be one of important achievements for the benefit of the State, and that there will be some little pleasure and satisfaction along the way for those of us who shall take part, and that we may add something of new lustre to representative government, and may do something that will be for the benefit of all of the people of our great Commonwealth.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 4, 1921.

The hour of twelve o'clock having arrived, Hon. Thomas H. Garvin, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, called the members elect to order and announced, that

This being the day fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, and a number of gentlemen elected members of the House of Representatives sufficient to constitute a quorum being present, the body will come to order.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father and our Friend, we come before Thee with humility and thankfulness, asking Thee to look down upon this body and render unto it signal favor; and as these men come here to come in solemn contact with Thee and each other, may such a high and holy resolve fill their souls that this day shall be remembered by them through all of the sessions of the Legislature; and may they come to its close, and may each man's conscience be found without blot or stain. Give unto them the insight, give unto them the knowledge, and help Thou them to use wisely their experience, and Bless Thou them in all of their undertakings. Let Thy good hand be in all of their affairs, and in this, which is possibly the most momentous in the history of our country, and likewise in the history of this State, and make it as fair as the flowers which deck the desks to-day. We ask it all for Thy name's sake. Amen.

MEMBER ABSENT.

Foster.

The CHIEF CLERK. Two hundred and six members having answered to their names, a quorum is present. The House is now ready to proceed to business.

JUDGE TO ADMINISTER OATH OF OFFICE.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR, a member-elect, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, learned in the law, be requested to administer the oath required to be taken by the members of the House of Representatives.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH OF OFFICE TO MEMBERS-ELECT.

The CHIEF CLERK. The members-elect will present themselves before the bar of the House where the oath of office, as required by law, will be administered to them by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, of Dauphin county.

The oath of office was then administered to all the members-elect, with the exception of Joseph T. Foster, of Venango County.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

Mr. SPROWLS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of article 2, section 9, of the constitution the House now proceed to the election of a Speaker and that the Clerks act as tellers.

NOMINATION FOR SPEAKER.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Chief Clerk, it has been said that the speakership is one of the greatest gifts within the power of the people. One of our great national speakers has said that he has greater power over legislation at times than the Executive. And inasmuch as there was fought during the month of November in this country a revolution which brought about on the following day, the return of those who were engaged in it, to their daily walks and occupations in life, and inasmuch as that revolution carried with it a victory by one great host vastly supported by a great number of those of other hosts, and since Wilsonism was swept from its foundation, and pure democracy and Americanism have been adopted by our people again, and since the Democrats, as well as Republicans, are now looking forward to the inauguration of a new National leader and hopeful that this party which we represent will bring back to our country peace and prosperity and future glory, this great State, as one of the corps in that great battle of November, is looking forward to the administration now in power, and to us as members of a new House to do our share in bringing about peace and harmony and prosperity and glory which should come to us, the people of Pennsylvania. We have, therefore, as Republicans in this body in due form and in accordance with our proper usage, nominated one whom we believe will be a leader and who will, to the very best of his ability, carry out that which the people of Pennsylvania expect from the Speaker of this House.

In presenting his name I do not offer the name of one who is unknown; neither do I offer the name of one who is untried, because during the last session he served us and fulfilled all his obligations. He was courteous, refined and gentle; one who was able to very cogently and powerfully present his arguments in favor of those things which he had before us; one in whom we can place trust; one who, when named last night, assured us that he will exert his every effort to have realized the expectations of this House. It is, therefore, with the greatest pleasure that I present to the House for its approval as the candidate of the Republican party, the Honorable Robert S. Spangler, of York.

In naming him as the caucus nominee of the Republican party, I feel that I am nominating one who has as his standard the motto of the greatest military body of the world; a body whose name was once mentioned to the former Kaiser of Germany and who, when talking on the subject of the great army corps, remarked that he believed that the Prussian Guard was greater than even Caesar's Tenth Legion, and further said: "There is but one body in all the world that I have any doubt as being greater, and that is the Marine Corps of the United States."

Gentlemen of the House, the Marine Corps through all its glorious service, all through a century, has stood behind one motto, and that is the motto, semper fidelis—always faithful.

In the session of 1919 Mr. Spangler was always faithful in the discharge, the proper discharge of his duty. Now, I ask you to concur with us and support him who has always been faithful, as the next Speaker of this House.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Elk, Mr. John M. Flynn.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Chairman, representing the minority members of this House, I have been asked to state that we have selected no candidate for Speaker. We held no caucus or no meeting for that purpose, for the reason that we believed that the control of this Legislative body, as in all parliamentary bodies, must necessarily lie with the majority membership, and that in presenting the name of the gentleman whose name has just been offered as a candidate for Speaker I wish to state that as one who served in the 1919 session, that he was at all times most courteous and fair with the minority members of this House, and believing that this policy will be continued by him, it is my desire and hope that he will be unanimously endorsed as the Speaker for the 1921 session.

The CHIEF CLERK. Are there any other nominations?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that the nominations do now close.

The motion was seconded and agreed to.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Clerk will call the roll.

The vote was as follows:

Honorable Robert S. Spangler having received the majority of all votes cast is declared Speaker of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania for the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

The CHIEF CLERK. I will appoint the gentleman from Chester County, Mr. Samuel A. Whitaker, and the gentleman from Elk County, Mr. John M. Flynn, as a committee to escort the newly-elected Speaker to the Chair.

The CHIEF CLERK. I have the honor of presenting to you Honorable Robert S. Spangler, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives. The oath of office will be administered to the Speaker-elect.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH TO SPEAKER.

The oath of office was then administered to Honorable Robert S. Spangler, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives, by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

ADDRESS OF THE SPEAKER.

My fellow members of the House of Representatives: It is with deep gratitude that I thank you for the signal honor that you have conferred upon me this morning. I thank not only the Republicans, but I thank the Democratic members for their support. I wish all of the members of the House of Representatives to feel that I am at all times approachable, whether in the Chair or whether in my office, and when you have any favors to ask that you will not hesitate to ask them of me here or elsewhere, and I shall endeavor always to be at your service. There have been a very great many requests of me for chairmanships and for appointments upon committees, and I want to assure every member that I have the most kindly feelings for each one of you; but it will be impossible for me to comply in full with the requests of every one. I shall, however, endeavor as far as I am able to give you at least a part of your preference and to satisfy you in some way if not in all.

I congratulate this Legislature upon its harmonious opening. I feel that it is a great and good omen, and I trust, in fact I am confident, that harmony shall prevail among our membership until the end of the session, and I feel that the work harmoniously conducted will redound not only to the credit of all of the members of the House, but to the honor of the great Commonwealth that we have been elected to serve. I thank you again one and all for the unusual honor, and be assured that I shall endeavor to be your servant in every sense of the word.

Before concluding, I wish to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that in their post office boxes they will find a letter in which is enclosed a preference sheet, and I ask that each member fill out the preference sheet in the order of his preference and hand it to me either here or at my office before the close of the day, so that I may be guided in the selection of the committees in a manner that will be satisfactory to all of the membership of the House. I thank you, gentlemen. (Applause.)

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God, the fountains of the great deep of human fury have burst out over the earth, and everywhere there are signs of a lowering sky. Sinister voices with alluring words would lead men on to human wreckage and ruin. It is unto Thee that we look, O Thou King of the Flood, and ask Thee to guide the affairs of human destiny that they may not be wrecked upon human fanaticism, creed or jealousy. Grant, we beseech Thee, that each and every man of this House may be a rock in the flood, and according to the best of his ability stand for those things which shall make for law and order. And, Oh, we pray Thee speak once more the words of peace that the turbulent tide cease and the human life and human destiny may assume its God-appointed course. Amen.

PRESENTATION TO MR. GLASS.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I ask your indulgence for a few moments to perform a very pleasant duty for one of my colleagues from Philadelphia. In the year 1914 a young and promising attorney from the southern district of Philadelphia had an ambition and a desire which was that he might be a member of this great legislative body. He comes from that rockbound, stalwart district, where consent or permission granted to run for the office are equal to nomination and election; a district that has served our party standard not only in the county and city of Philadelphia, but also this great Commonwealth. When a Governor came down to the north of Market Street, in Philadelphia, defeated, this stalwart Republican district came up with a majority that placed the Governor, and a Republican Governor, into the executive chair of this great Commonwealth. This young man's desire was granted, and in 1915 he entered this hall as a student in legislative work. His ambition was to do what was right, not alone for his city but for his State and his country. After a short time I noticed his close attention to the work and the duties required of him, as a legislator, and it developed, in my mind, that he had three characteristics: Honesty of purpose, loyalty to principle, and the courage of his convictions. The three combined show up the qualifications of a true man.

In 1917, through the work that he performed during the session of 1915, his constituents thought that he was worthy of renomination and re-election and he came back in 1917 and again in 1919, something, to my knowledge, which has never been done before in that district which he at the present time represents. This year his constituents, appreciating the value of his services to his city and to this great Commonwealth of ours, again sent him back here as the representative from the first district of Philadelphia.

On behalf of his friends of the first ward of Philadelphia, who appreciate the value of his services, I have the honor to-night to present him with this small token of appreciation, with the hope that he will accept it in the true light to the effect that he has been the faithful servant of his constituents. (Turning to the desk of Leopold C. Glass.) On behalf of the members of your district, Mr. Glass, representing the first district of Philadelphia, I have the honor to present to you this pin, presenting it not on account of its value but for the honesty of purpose and integrity which those members of your district appreciate in your work as their servant.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, honored and worthy colleague of Philadelphia and Members of the House:

Words fail to express the feeling that I have at this particular time toward the gentlemen who have been my colleagues, not only in this session but in the previous sessions of 1915, 1917 and 1919. I have always tried to serve my constituents to the best of my ability and I feel that I am only doing my duty in trying to represent their interests and their wishes, and I feel that I am not doing any more than any other member of this House is doing. I am only doing, as I always have, my duty. I am very grateful to the gentlemen from Philadelphia, and to the gentleman from the farm district of Philadelphia (Mr. Dunn), for the very kind words he has expressed concerning myself.

I thank the Members of the House for listening so attentively to him and to me, and I hope the relations that have existed between us in the past will continue to exist in the future. I only hope that this session of the Legislature will be a most cordial one, and I assure you that I shall always be willing to do my duty in serving the interests of my constituents.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE PRICE OF COAL.

Mr. GLASS offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Providing for the appointment of a Commission to investigate the price of coal and the distribution and marketing thereof with a view to a possible reduction in the price thereof; authorizing the Commission to appoint a secretary and stenographers and to fix their salaries; empowering the Commission to issue subpoenas and fixing the penalty for failure to obey such subpoenas; authorizing and empowering the said Commission to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall act as its attorney and make a report of its findings and recommendations thereon to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Whereas attention has been directed to the abnormally high prices of coal (particularly anthracite) prevailing in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas there appears to be no justification for the said high prices and the public welfare and interest demands that the reasons and causes of the said high prices be immediately investigated and ascertained so that appropriate action may be taken by the present Legislature with a view of effecting a reduction in the said high prices.

Now therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That a Commission to investigate the prices of coal (particularly anthracite) prevailing in this Commonwealth and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof, shall be immediately appointed.

The said Commission shall consist of five members and shall be appointed as follows: Two of the members thereof shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, two of the members thereof by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and one member thereof by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The said Commission shall organize immediately upon its appointment and elect its officers. The members of the said Commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be allowed all actual and necessary expenses in the performance of their duties. The Commission is authorized to appoint a secretary and one or more stenographers and to fix the salaries of the said appointees, which, together with the expenses of the Commission shall be paid out of the appropriation to be hereafter made for that purpose.

It shall be the duty of the said Commission to make full, thorough and searching investigation of the prices of coal (Particularly anthracite) and the manner of its distribution and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof presently prevailing. It shall have power in any manner in which it may deem advisable to thoroughly investigate the marketing thereof with a view of obtaining a possible reduction in the prices thereof.

For the purposes of enabling the said Commission to carry out the provisions of this resolution, it is authorized and empowered to sit in any part of this Commonwealth and it shall also have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and other evidence, and for such purposes the Commission may issue subpoenas signed by the president thereof and cause the same to be served in any part of the Commonwealth.

If any witness shall refuse to testify to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any book or books, paper or papers within his possession or under his control, the secretary of the Commission shall forthwith report the facts of such refusal to the Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein such witness resides or wherein his or her attendance was required, and if the Court shall determine that the testimony or other evidence required of such witness is legal and competent, then said Court shall make an order upon such witness commanding him or her to testify or to produce such book or books, paper or papers or both, or other evidence as the case may be. If such witness shall thereafter refuse to testify or to produce books or papers or other evidence as aforesaid, then the said Court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the County jail for contempt.

The said Commission is authorized and empowered to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall be the attorney for the Commission and who shall advise the Commission upon the request of any member thereof.

The said Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendation to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

May these things not only be embellished on canvas as they are here, but may they be written in large characters on our hearts and our lives; and oh, to-day, may his shade arise and may he teach once more the wonders of thrift, that we shall return from our orgy of spending and become sane and sober and sensible and do those things which will make for a true prosperity.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable William C. Sproul.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR BEIDLEMAN. Members of the General Assembly, I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable William C. Sproul.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR WILLIAM C. SPROUL TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Governor William C. Sproul. Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

It is not with any desire to introduce an innovation that I have asked the privilege of coming before you in person to deliver to you, as the Legislative branch of our State Government, the recommendations of the Executive as to some of the things which will require particular attention during your session, but it is with a purpose of assuring you of the full appreciation of the Governor and of all the department chiefs under his direction of the problems which are before you for solution, and to offer you our thorough co-operation in discharging the responsibilities with which the people of Pennsylvania have entrusted you in these momentous times. My own long experience in the Legislature and the gratifying results of the last session, when, in the ordinary routine of events, I had the opportunity of addressing you personally in my inaugural, and again, by your invitation, at the close of the session, leads me to believe that this plan makes for a better understanding between us and a more efficient co-ordination of our activities.

The service in which we are enlisted is a most important one. It will do us no harm, in the contemplation of our work, to realize that Pennsylvania is one of the mighty states of the earth. Providentially favored with vast natural wealth and an unequaled position with respect to transportation and markets, our Commonwealth ranks with some of the conspicuous nations of the globe in its population and resources and is greater than many of them. The recent census discloses the interesting fact that you represent more people than the members of seventeen similar bodies which are meeting this winter in their respective states have in all of their constituencies combined. When the immortal Washington relinquished the presidency, the United States had about half as many people as this great State now contains, and when James Monroe was inaugurated the entire nation had grown to just about the total number of residents included within the limits of your jurisdiction to-day.

The exposition of these facts must impress us with a deep sense of the opportunities which are before us for service, the like of which are given to comparatively few, and fill us with a patriotic desire to do that which is for us to do with a zeal and earnestness worthy of the trust imposed by our people. And when we fully appreciate that these nearly nine millions of Pennsylvanians whose work we are here to carry on, constitute a body of citizens unexcelled in all Christendom for loyalty, industry, real achievement, true worthiness of character and devoted public spirit, we shall approach our duties resolved that our vision shall not be limited nor our actions cramped by individual or local prejudices, selfish considerations or small politics but that we shall give to this splendid State our best abilities as representatives of all of its people in our official obligations. Already one of the most highly developed states in the Union or in the world in its governmental efficiency, our material strength should make it easy not only to maintain that position but to improve it, and we must set ourselves to a course of steadfast progressiveness which will bring to our citizens those blessings of an enlightened civilization which they deserve and which they have the means to possess. Mindful of a distinguished past and with thankfulness for a sturdy and successful present, we shall look forward with confidence to a future which will bring to Pennsylvania the beneficences which, in God's plan, are to be hers, for the contentment, prosperity and advancement of her people.

NOT A DETAILED REPORT.

It is not my purpose to-day to make any detailed report of the operations of the various departments of the government of the Commonwealth, except insofar as those operations relate to the matters which will now require our attention or which have led to developments affecting questions of immediate public interest. Permit me to say, however, with much pride and satisfaction, that without exception, thanks to the particularly able public servants whose efforts it has been our good fortune to have been able to command, our administrative organization has functioned admirably; the many changes and improvements authorized by the last Legislature have been carried out; the public work along constructive lines has been extended and developed, and, better than all, the State's diversified activities have been brought nearer to the people in every section of the State and have won their general commendation and approval. This program of administrative efficiency has been accomplished, too, in the face of unforeseen and almost unheard of difficulties and I cannot give too much credit to the body of faithful officers and employes who have stood by us in the emergency through which we have passed, rendering excellent help at rates of compensation far below that prevailing in commercial employment.

It is a noteworthy fact, that the departments as a whole were operated within the limit of appropriations granted two years ago, and that the only deficits of moment are in the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings, through higher costs of labor, fuel, supplies, rentals and the provision for housing the expanding forces of State employes, and in the Printing Department, where the extraordinary costs of paper and typography have exceeded the estimates in spite of our efforts to reduce to a minimum the printing requirements by eliminating useless publications.

DIFFICULTIES OF ADMINISTRATION.

Gratifying as this situation is in the immediate departments of the State government, the extraordinary conditions prevailing throughout the country with regard to the cost of living and maintenance, and which have affected every enterprise, public and private, as well as every household, have brought about a situation in the State institutions—penal, custodial, charitable and educational—which will require prompt attention. Two years ago when the estimates for the maintenance of these establishments were under consideration, it seemed as though the costs of all of the elements going into their upkeep and operation had reached the peak and that a gradual decline might reasonably be expected. Such was not the case, as is now known to everyone, but instead the charges mounted higher and higher, and it was not until within a few weeks that any perceptible decline in fuel, food and supplies was noticed, while wages are still high and will be likely to remain so, the employes of all State institutions having been generally illy-paid in the past. As a result the estimates made two years ago by the Appropriations Committees, the State Board of Charities and the management of the institutions have been greatly exceeded, maintenance rates have advanced and, as the State cannot "shut down" its schools, hospitals and asylums, there has been no alternative but to authorize the carrying of deficits either through local borrowings or by advances made through the co-operation of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth. The average maintenance in the custodial institutions of the State have advanced from twenty-five to forty per cent. over the estimates of two years ago, although these various plants have been managed by careful and painstaking trustees and unusually capable local executives. Not only will these deficits have to be promptly provided for, but provision must be made for a higher scale of operating charges in the future.

At the last session of the Legislature, in order to meet a great emergency which threatened the public school system of the State, a teachers' salary act was passed under which the Commonwealth assumed very definite obligations in the matter of providing for certain increases in the compensation of the several grades of teachers. This plan has been found effective but it has developed that the amount required to carry out the State's pledges will be considerably greater than was then calculated, and before the end of the fiscal year a deficit of probably $1,500,000 will have to be taken up to enable the various districts to pay the increased teachers' salaries.

STATE FINANCES.

As many of the propositions which we shall later discuss are predicated upon the condition of the State Treasury, the success of various measures looking toward economy and retrenchment and the prospective revenues, it is advisable to make an early review of the questions relating to the finances of the Commonwealth.

I am happy to be able to report to you that in spite of the unusual conditions of high operating costs, some of which have already been detailed, by endeavoring to make every dollar do a dollar's work, we have been able to make ends meet and have gained substantially in our general balance sheet. As illustrating this it will be interesting to note that at the beginning of our first appropriation year, June 1, 1919, we had, according to figures given by the Auditor General potential liabilities in the shape of overlapping appropriations made in previous years and then unpaid, of approximately $20,000,000 over and above the cash balance in the general fund. These old appropriations, through the activity of our various departments in cleaning up and completing the work on hand, have now been reduced to less than $2,500,000, and the total of unexpended appropriations, including the balances of the 1919 list, were on January 1, with five months of the appropriation year yet to run, only $27,000,000 above the balance in the general fund. Allowing $5,000,000 for the usual expenses, deficiencies and other items to be authorized by appropriations made between now and June 1, and assuming that our payments will go on at the same rate as during the past year, we should reduce this total of $32,000,000 by the end of the appropriation period to about $10,000,000, or a gain of $10,000,000 in the two-year period.

This gratifying result has been accomplished in the face of unparalleled difficulties by a more thorough collection of the taxes by the Auditor General with the full co-operation of the State Treasurer, and because of the care in making and expending appropriations of the public money. The receipts for the General Fund, that is the revenues which are available for the general purposes of the State government, and which are not set aside by law for specific purposes, grew in the last fiscal year to approximately $50,000,000. In considering this fact, however, it should be borne in mind that last year was a period of great commercial activity, and as a large proportion of our revenues depend upon the gross receipts and capital stock values of certain corporations, it may be extremely difficult to make so good a showing this year. It must also be remembered that while the salaries and wages of State employes have not as a rule, advanced in anything like the proportion that has been prevalent in other employments, the costs of materials, supplies, maintenance and everything else entering into the operations of the government, have greatly increased, and that the $50,000,000 available to-day will not do more than two-thirds of what that amount accomplished three years ago. Perhaps there may be a change in conditions, but such a change will affect the revenues as well as our expenses. However, it is not safe to depend upon such a change, and personally I do not anticipate any long-continued period of business depression.

PROGRESS MEANS GREATER EXPENSE.

This Legislature will have to provide, in addition to the ordinary expenditures heretofore figuring in the appropriation items, a sufficient sum to meet the increased costs of maintaining the State's wards in the asylums, hospitals, public homes and various other philanthropies; to meet the obligation to which we have committed ourselves in bearing a part of the increased pay for teachers in the common schools; to complete extensions of the custodial institutions so that they may care for the needs of our increased population; to provide for the interest and sinking fund requirements of the road loans, and to meet the higher costs in some of our essential operations.

In the face of this condition, however, we may by remaining exactly where we are now standing, get along with our expected revenues under our present laws. If we are going to move forward, we shall have greater expenses and will consequently need more money to meet them. I have analyzed the matter carefully and am trying to put the facts squarely before you. I regard this as part of my duty. It is also my duty to see that we do not make commitments for any projects which we have not the means to carry on.

If we are to make larger appropriations to the public schools, or increase the amounts available for highway construction and the State aid to meet the road funds which have been voted in the various counties, or propose to go ahead with the Delaware River bridge at Philadelphia, or to free the interstate bridges farther up that stream, if we propose to meet the need for hospital facilities for our wounded soldiers who seem to have been sadly neglected elsewhere, if we plan to extend additional aid to our universities and colleges to help them find means to admit the thousands of ambitious Pennsylvania boys and girls who could not be taken in last autumn, if we are going to help our normal schools prepare more and better teachers, if we are to try to wipe out the blot of illiteracy in Pennsylvania, if we are to extend the blessed work of rehabilitating the wounded service men and the maimed from industry and give them a chance in the world, if we are to try to make up for past recklessness and insure against future need by protecting and restoring our forests, if we are to do anything that is new or forward-looking instead of standing still or following the easy path of least resistance, we shall have to find some additional revenue. That is just where the matter stands.

PENNSYLVANIA'S TAX PLAN.

The Federal Government, the municipalities and all of the various administrative authorities have drawn heavily upon the tax-paying abilities of the citizens and every effort should be made to keep our State expenditures within the lowest practical limitations. It must be said, however, that the State taxes are the least of the troubles which our taxpayers have to bear. Pennsylvania's expenditures are very moderate as compared with those of the other highly developed states, and are far below the average per capita cost of the government of those commonwealths whose problems and enterprises are in any way commensurate with ours. In some of our important neighboring states the levy for state purposes is fully twice as much as ours for each resident. The people of Pennsylvania last year paid the national tax-gatherer something over thirteen times as much as they paid for their State Government. The city of Philadelphia, with a trifle less than 21 per cent. of the population of the State, collects and expends considerably more than the entire receipts of the Commonwealth. Pennsylvania is one of the only two states which levy no direct tax upon property for State purposes. The farm and the home are not called upon to pay toll for the maintenance of the State. The so-called State tax upon mortgages, loans and investments is really not a State tax at all, the proceeds now being devoted entirely to county purposes. This is a happy situation and should not be disturbed.

SUGGESTIONS AS TO REVENUE.

If our present revenue could be increased twenty per cent., or, say, by $10,000,000, great things could be done in line with the progressive ideas which are now strongly impressed upon the minds of our people. There are some ways in which this could be done without hardship to anyone and without disarranging the general taxation plans of the State.

Perhaps the most practicable plan, in that the slight burden it would impose would be very widely distributed and a large proportion of it would come from beneficiaries of Pennsylvania's natural resources living elsewhere, would be found in a small ad valorem tax upon coal. We have a great problem to meet in all of our coal mining districts, and especially in the anthracite region, in making provision against the depletion of the coal areas, in guarding against present and future dangers incident to the industry, and making reparation of damage to public and private property, to the communities and to the whole prospect of life there. The same situation is becoming more apparent in the bituminous fields. We cannot longer sit here in snug indifference to our responsibilities as officials and as citizens. The men and women of another generation will wonder what sort of folks lived in this State in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, as they contemplate deserted and ruined cities, abandoned industries and a desolate wilderness where once were teeming communities, and realize that a little foresight might have saved, or at least mitigated, such conditions. We may make a start toward meeting this grave question and at the same time help the mining counties, while we are securing for the State the funds which it will need for its own beneficent purposes.

It will be recalled that a few years ago, an act was passed levying a tax upon anthracite coal, but this enactment was later declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court because it was discriminatory in its provision that only one kind of coal should be subject to taxation. It will, therefore, be necessary to include soft coal production in our plans this time, if we are to take action in this direction. A small percentage tax upon the value of coal produced at the mine, and which would yield an average of, say, four cents per ton upon bituminous coal and eight cents per ton upon anthracite, would, at the present rate of production, yield a gross revenue of about $16,000,000, so great are our shipments of fuel. The State should retain sixty per cent. of this amount for the benefit of all of the people of the Commonwealth; twenty per cent. should be returned to the counties from which it originates, to relieve local taxation and for permanent improvements, and the remaining twenty per cent. should go into a fund to be administered by a Reparations Commission, or possibly by a bureau in the Department of Public Welfare, which I shall later suggest, to be applied to restorations, repairs, rebuilding and remedying generally the conditions existing in the coal regions. The surplus accumulations from this fund might be placed in a trust fund under proper restrictions, which would, within a reasonable time, yield sufficient income to insure the permanent habitability and development of our truly devastated sections.

The tax upon coal, if administered as outlined above, would in itself, come near to meeting our reasonable requirements. It should be accompanied by legislation which would prevent the addition of larger sums than were actually paid to the costs of coal to the consumer as a compensation for taxes. This will prevent any gouging of the public or any excuses regarding the "costs of collection."

OTHER REVENUE POSSIBILITIES.

In case other plans for increasing the revenue should be desired, it would be entirely feasible to place a small tax upon the capital stock of those corporations which are now exempted from the payment of State taxes upon their stock issues, and which only pay State taxes at all, when they happen to have put out bonds which are held by residents of this State. The tax upon these companies, and especially upon manufacturing corporations, should never be a heavy one, as they have no public franchises and by their presence in the State aid in the development and upbuilding of our communities and provide markets for our products. Moreover, they contribute to the local revenues and are not exempted as in the case of transportation companies, which pay a heavy tax upon their stock and upon their gross revenues, thus giving the State a large part of its income. Other states, however, levy heavily upon these corporations which we particularly favor; New York, for example, taking for state purposes four per cent. of their net earnings, in addition to burdening them with various stock and excise taxes and making a direct property tax against their real estate holdings.

According to the information in the Auditor General's office corporations of this class in Pennsylvania value their capital stock at about $3,500,000,000, including the capital employed by outside corporations which operate in this State. A tax of one mill upon this capitalization would yield about $3,500,000, and two mills, which should be the outside figure considering all things, would yield about $7,000,000. It is an interesting fact that many corporations chartered under the laws of other states, but which have almost their entire property in Pennsylvania, pay heavy franchise and other taxes in the states in which they were chartered and contribute nothing directly to the revenue of the Commonwealth which protects their plants and cares for their employes.

An increase of one per cent. upon the inheritance taxes, making the rate six per cent. upon collateral inheritances and three per cent. upon direct inheritances, would yield a revenue of about $2,500,000. While our inheritance taxes are not heavy, as compared with the exactions in other states, I do not believe we should increase these rates except in case of the failure of other measures to materialize. A readjustment of the law governing the estates of non-resident decedents owning property in Pennsylvania, so that other possessions in addition to the stock of Pennsylvania corporations might be subject to the transfer inheritance tax, would probably yield half a million dollars and it should be passed as a matter of equity.

A State license tax of five cents per square foot upon billboards and advertising signs, erected upon property other than that owened or occupied by the advertiser, would yield several hundred thousand dollars and do something to curb a condition that is rapidly becoming a real nuisance. If half of this tax should be returned to the counties, whose people have to endure these signs, there would be some compensation for their unsightly obtrusion into the landscape.

EDUCATION.

The solemn obligation rests upon the General Assembly to provide adequate educational facilities for the 1,750,000 children in this Commonwealth. Pennsylvania's system of education must be so complete and comprehensive that it will meet the modern demands of our complex American life. The State Department of Public Instruction has been reorganized for the purpose of developing such a system of education, of making it coherent and effective, of administering it upon sound professional and business principles, of providing assistance and stimulus to every educational agency and institution in the State as well as to each community, and of giving leadership and interpretation to the patriotic ideals of our people.

The State's plan of administration and the essential minimum standards which it exacts in education should be expressed in sound legislative enactment. I therefore make the following recommendations in relation to education:

First, that the State Board of Education and the College and University Council be abolished and that, in place thereof, one board be established, to be known as the State Council of Education. All of the Commonwealth's educational activities, including all independent boards and agencies related to public education, should be co-ordinated under general supervisory powers of such Council.

Second, that the conditions which permit the employment of several thousand unqualified teachers in our public schools should be remedied as speedily as possible. The surest and best way to reach this result is through the enactment of a law requiring proper qualifications for all teachers and encouraging them to fully prepare themselves by guaranteeing to them salaries which shall be commensurate with the services they render.

Third, that the State Normal schools be utilized to their fullest possibilities in the training of teachers, that adequate financial support be provided for these institutions to meet the instructional expenses, and that the housekeeping of such institutions be placed upon a self-supporting basis. To accomplish this result a budget system for the State Normal schools should be established.

Fourth, that the laws regulating the school term and compulsory attendance be modified so that equal educational opportunity shall be accorded every boy and girl in the Commonwealth. The least which the State may demand for each child is the completion of an elementary education.

Fifth, that such increased State aid be given public education as the condition of the revenues, the business affairs of the Commonwealth, and sound school financing will allow.

AMERICANIZATION.

The census of 1920 shows that there are approximately 418,000 adults in Pennsylvania who cannot read or write. These are found in every county of the State. In forty-three of the counties the number of illiterates ranges from 1,000 to 79,125. This vast army of illiterates can share in only a limited way in either the opportunities or the obligations which citizenship in this Commonwealth affords. They will not be able to make their greatest contribution to American life or realize its complete advantages until they have acquired the ability to transact their own private affairs and to make known their desires and needs in English—the common language of the country. To be sure the great majority of those unprepared are of foreign birth, but our duty in the premises is none the less urgent. We have invited these people here to help us in our tasks of development, we have profited by their art and industry and we must give them every opportunity to attain their full stature, mental, moral and spiritual. I recommend, therefore, that an effective State-wide program for the elimination of adult illiteracy be inaugurated without delay by establishing a bureau for that purpose in the Department of Public Instruction.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION AND FINANCING.

During the years 1919 and 1920 our Highway construction program has gone forward as rapidly as natural conditions and business exigencies would permit. In the two years, we have completed six hundred and sixty-seven miles of new highway, of which six hundred and fifty miles are of concrete construction, in accordance with the Pennsylvania standard specifications, which are generally recognized as being of the most advanced type to withstand modern traffic conditions. During the same time, six hundred and ninety-two miles of roadway have been resurfaced, and the entire system of about eleven thousand miles of State Highway has been reasonably well maintained. We have now under contract about four hundred miles of new standard construction, all of which should be completed during the present calendar year. This is by far the most extensive record in highway construction which has ever been achieved in this country. It is the more remarkable considering the extraordinary conditions which have prevailed during most of the time since the last session of the General Assembly, the difficulty in getting labor and materials having interposed serious obstacles which at times seemed almost insurmountable.

I am sure that we should go ahead actively with our highway improvement until all of our main roads have been made available for traffic at all seasons of the year, and through routes established which will provide transportation facilities for all sections of the State.

We have available more than half of the $50,000,000 road loan, and propose to sell the bonds, which we are authorized to issue, and proceed with the work as rapidly as possible. It is a noteworthy fact that the counties of the State have voted upon loans, amounting to over $54,000,000, to co-operate with the State in building highways, and that, in addition to this, there are in sight, through township loans and money which can be spared through temporary county borrowings by the County Commissioners, additional sums which will bring the total available from this source up to nearly $50,000,000. The Federal Government is planning further contributions for co-operating with the states in the construction of post roads, and our appropriations to take advantage of all of these sources of assistance in completing the great highways of the State should be as liberal as our means will permit.

Our new construction is showing up in a most gratifying way in public convenience and satisfaction, and as the links in the system are connected up, the great public improvement which has been made will become more and more apparent.

Last year, owing to the extraordinary financial conditions prevailing in the country, we found it impossible to secure bids for our State bonds, bearing the interest rate of four and one-half per cent., fixed by law. However, with the co-operation of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, we were able to induce a group of patriotic Pennsylvania bankers to purchase $11,800,000 of short-term bonds, with the understanding that provision would be made as soon as possible, for the substitution of this temporary loan for permanent bonds, bearing a higher rate of interest. It will be necessary to increase the interest rate in the next offering, and legislation should be passed allowing the bonds to be sold at the prevailing rate of interest for securities of the kind, not to exceed the legal rate of six per cent. At the moment, it would probably be possible to dispose of our bonds upon a basis of five per cent. interest.

There are sufficient funds available for completing the acquisition of the toll roads upon the State Highway routes. We should now turn our attention to acquiring and freeing the toll bridges, of which there are many. Tolls of any kind, and especially upon our main routes, do not reflect credit upon our enterprise.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT.

Whatever may be our individual sentiments regarding the questions involved in the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, we cannot, as patriotic citizens of the Republic, view with unconcern the fact that this State, under the laws as they now exist, is actually licensing its citizens to violate the Federal Constitution and statutes.

While it has been held that the Federal Law supercedes the laws of any state, the Eighteenth Amendment provides that "the Congress and several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation." The Congress, as you know, has complied with this direction, by the passage of the so-called Volstead Act, but in Pennsylvania no change has been made in our statutes governing the right to handle intoxicating liquors.

Under the Brooks Law, no liquor of even the slightest alcoholic content can be sold in Pennsylvania, without a license granted by the courts, and after a very thorough consideration of the matter and with a full desire to reach a conclusion, which will remedy the present intolerable conditions, I am of the opinion that it would be unwise to repeal the so-called Brooks License Law, but that this law should be amended so as to conform fully to the Federal Laws upon the subject, and necessary enforcement provisions should be added to meet present conditions.

I cannot but feel that a very unfortunate condition might arise if full control of the sale of brewed and other liquors containing any percentage of alcohol, however infinitesimal, should be relaxed, for then liquors containing an alcoholic content of the standard imposed by the Federal Law might be sold and distributed indiscriminately, the same as milk, water or any other liquid, and to any person without regard to age or degree of responsibility. These products contain all the elements of and are easily converted into intoxicating beverages, and if every shop keeper in the State could sell them to minors and to all others, without restriction and in any desired quantity thousands of potential violators of law might be created.

On the other hand, if the safeguards provided in the Brooks License Law are allowed to remain all applicants for the privilege to sell these drinks would as now be passed upon by the courts, and offenders against the law as modified to agree with the Federal statutes, could be punished for violation of its provisions. No elaborate and expensive enforcement machinery would be necessary. The provisions of the Federal enactments would be the law of the State as well, and every peace officer of the Commonwealth would be charged with the duty of enforcing them.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION.

Under the authority given by the 1919 session of the General Assembly, I appointed a Commission of twenty-five citizens of the State to study the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and to make such recommendations as to its amendment and revision as might seem to them desirable. No duty which I have performed has given me greater concern than the selection of this important Commission, and I know of no body of citizens which has ever given more conscientious and painstaking service. The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision, in accordance with the law authorizing its creation, has devoted many months to a careful review of our Constitution, and will shortly submit to you a report as to its findings.

It is a matter of public information that this report, unanimously adopted after the most thorough consideration by this notably able and patriotic body, will recommend that the question of a Constitutional Convention, be submitted to the people for their decision, and in case this referendum is favorable to the holding of a Constitutional Convention, that the machinery for the election of the members of a convention be provided, and arrangements be made for holding such a convention. The report will speak for itself and will give full information as to the question involved

I am fully in accord with the recommendations of the Commission, and feel that now is the time to give the people an opportunity to revise their fundamental law, to simplify and strengthen it and bring it into closer accord with the opinion of the times.

CONGRESSIONAL AND LEGISLATIVE REAPPORTIONMENT.

It is the plain duty of the General Assembly, under the Constitution and laws of both the United States and of the Commonwealth, after each decennial census, to divide the State into Congressional districts, containing as nearly equal units of population as may be possible. This duty was neglected after the last preceding census, with the result that the State has each year elected four members of Congress without constituency, the Congressional districts have been grossly unequal in population, and the people have thus been deprived of proper representation.

The Congress of the United States has not yet passed legislation providing for the numerical ratio of apportionment for the next decade but will probably do so in time to enable us to perform the task of redistricting the State to comply with the requirements of the new enactment. The plan now favored in Congress, and which seems likely of passage, provides for an increase in that body, which would give to Pennsylvania four additional Congressmen, making forty in all. If we should fail to reapportion the State, we would be in the ridiculous position of having eight Congressmen-at-large. It seems to me that this would be a reflection upon the State, and would place us in a false light before the country.

Our State Constitution likewise provides that the State shall be reapportioned into senatorial and Legislative districts following each census, and this duty has been neglected for many years. We have Senatorial districts ranging in size from 82,500 to 258,000, truly an unjust and indefensible condition and one which must be resented by the people.

I well recall the difficulties in passing the last reapportionment bill, and the matter is one which will require much effort upon the part of those charged with working out the intricate details of the necessary bills, but we cannot avoid the responsibility and I urge upon you strongly that a start may be made promptly toward making the necessary preparations for this important work. A failure to remedy the existing injustice and inequality in the Congressional, Senatorial and Legislative apportionment of the State would be a blow at the very fundamentals of representative government, and a confession upon our part of unthinkable incapacity to meet the responsibilities of our positions.

WOMEN IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

Following the adoption by the required number of states of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, the women of Pennsylvania were given the full right and privileges of citizenship. By a broad construction of the effect of the Federal enactment upon the laws of the State in accordance with the decisions of the United States courts and our own judiciary, our law officers found full authority for the participation of our new citizens in our elections and public affairs. We may take much pride in the accomplishment of this fact without the necessity of special enactments or troublesome technical obstacles or delays. The women of Pennsylvania have accepted their responsibilities in a splendid spirit, and the results of their interest and activity are already apparent.

The advent of women into public positions will require some changes in the laws governing certain of our officials affairs. The counties of the Commonwealth will be obliged to make adequate provision for the comfort and privacy, for example, of women jurors. These matters will work out gradually, but it may be necessary to have some legislation, giving broader authority to County Commissioners, and in some instances requiring action by them where a dilatory disposition is indicated.

Undoubtedly, there will be demands for mandatory provisions for the election or appointment of women to certain positions and to membership in the various boards. My opinion is that no distinction as to sex should be made among our citizens in any public capacity, and that these matters be allowed to work out according to good judgment and discretion. In our administrative commissions and boards we are adding women members as opportunity offers.

FOR PUBLIC WELFARE.

My experience in the office of Chief Executive of the Commonwealth has strengthened an opinion, which I have long held, that all of the functions and duties performed by the several commissions and boards having to do with the direction and oversight of the penal and charitable institutions of the State should be centered in an executive department to be located here at Harrisburg.

The plan I have in mind would not involve the elimination of the local boards of trustees or administrators at the various institutions, but would place the supervision of all of these agencies in a definite organization, and would provide a connection between them and the executive authority of the State. It would simplify and make more effective many agencies working in the same general direction, but ofttimes entirely without co-ordination. In following this plan of establishing a new Department of Public Welfare, we might be guided by the action which has been taken by several of our great sister states with much success.

Matters connected with the care of the insane and feebleminded, the attention to dependent and delinquent children, the mothers' assistance fund, general executive supervision of the State and county prisons, the utilization of prison labor and various other corelated functions of the State, now looked after by a dozen different agencies, could be brought under an effective centralized administration, which would be more economical and more efficient.

I have not been advised definitely as to the recommendations which will be made by the particular Commission which is studying some of these related questions, but I am sure that the time has come when all of these matters should be combined in a well organized department.

The suggestion had been made that this might be well accomplished by a bureau in the Department of Health, but there are so many questions of administration involved that I would recommend the creation of a separate department, under the direction of a commissioner, possibly with the assistance of an advisory board, as in the case in some of the other branches of our administrative organization.

The Department of Health has already a great variety of duties. Its work has been admirable and should be broadened. The success of the present head of the Department, in enlisting the active assistance of so many of the philanthropic agencies, and especially of the women's organizations in the State, has been most commendable. If we can form an organization which can effectively handle the multitude of questions coming under the head of Public Welfare, as it is now generally understood, and bring to our side as assistants the numerous societies, which are taking such a great interest in subjects which would be under this jurisdiction, we may justly feel that we have accomplished something that is very well worth while.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Through its Engineering and Laboratory Divisions, the Department of Health has exercised an efficient supervision over the public water supplies of the State—in regard to their immediate adequacy and wholesomeness ;and to the insuring of conditions which provide against a probable or possible failure in these directions. This has required, in some instances, the full exhibit of those large powers conveyed upon the Department by act of Legislature. The present report is one of generally safe water for the State, and of active and efficient measures being taken to insure a continuance of this condition.

Concerning transmissible diseases, the continued prevalence of which in any locality is an index of sanitary control, the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics show for typhoid fever the lowest incidence and mortality in the history of the Department. This disease epitomizes the effect of constant supervision, and prompt and energetic control of all sources of infection. The morbidity and mortality rates of typhoid to-day, as compared with a few years ago, show a yearly decline of more than twenty thousand cases and three thousand deaths for this single cause in Pennsylvania.

Concerning diphtheria, in the last few months, the Statistical Bureau reports not only the lowest mortality in the history of the State, but the lowest mortality in any state in the Union; and, in so far as we know, in any country in the world! Our present diphtheria rate means a saving of some eight hundred (800) deaths over last year.

Since an efficient public health service must begin with the unborn child and be intensively continued through infancy, childhood, and the school age, the Division of Child Health has already organized thirty-five health centers in twenty-six counties of the State. Its function is to save the mothers, and to deliver the children, one hundred per cent. fit, at the school room door. The comparative mortality returns for the last few years, indicate that the babies of Pennsylvania are having almost twice as good a chance for life as was their portion formerly.

Since the venereal diseases are both preventable and curable, and take a larger toll in death and disability than does consumption, a Division for their control has established twenty-nine of its own clinics and is co-operating with eighty-five hospital clinics for the purpose of treating those infected, curing them, and finding and bringing under control the sources of infection. Even in its present stage of development, the State work is saving from infection more than a thousand cases each month.

The School Health Division, which receives records of the examination of more than twelve hundred thousand children, shows a more complete report and a more adequate follow-up in the direction of correcting defects than at any previous time.

The special activities toward the control of tuberculosis, are centered in the removal of child contacts, the training of those infected for the protection of others, and the development of occupational therapy under medical supervision. Also in the development at the three great sanatoria of a cheerful and hopeful community spirit essential in the combatting of a chronic disease.

The Department has had the cordial and active co-operation of the medical profession, of nearly all organizations working toward a better health, and particularly of the Red Cross. Some five thousand of the most active, able, and prominent citizens of the State are formally enrolled as a part of the Health Department and are working, for no return other than that incident to public service well performed.

The Department needs legislative support in the direction of a closer association with hospitals receiving State aid; some supervision over both public and private institutions in which children are grouped, either from the standpoint of health or charity; power to insist upon an edaquate health administration in the smaller cities; provision for sequestration and treatment of transmissible diseases.

SOLDIERS' BONUS.

There will undoubtedly be a well organized effort to secure action by the General Assembly toward providing a bonus payment to the honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines from Pennsylvania, who served in the Great War. Aside from the desire upon the part of every good citizen to suitably recognize the services of our gallant defenders, the question is a most important one and in case a way can be found to make possible an enactment of the kind, it will be the largest financial undertaking in the history of the State, with the exception of the highway program. There were approximately 350,000 Pennsylvanians who enlisted or were called to the colors during the Great War. The sum involved in the payment of a bonus to these men would be very large, even at the minimum figures which are now under discussion.

There seems to be some doubt as to the right of the Legislature to appropriate public moneys for bonuses or pensions, under the provisions of the present Constitution, and the difficulties of securing sufficient funds under any other plan except by an amendment to the Constitution, which would clear up any doubt as to the legal phase of the matter and at the same time provide the necessary funds by a loan, would suggest this as the only practicable means of realizing the general desire to reward our service men. Under this plan the repayment of the loan could be gradually made and the financial arrangements of the State would not be so seriously disturbed.

A study of the laws passed in other states shows that twelve states up to the present time have adopted bonus plans. In all of these states, except two, bond issues, ranging from $2,500,000 in Rhode Island to $45,000,000 in New York, have been authorized or proposed. In Massachusetts, a $20,000,000 bond issue is provided, with a direct military poll tax upon all citizens to provide for its retirement.

A straight allowance of $100 to each soldier, sailor and marine would require Pennsylvania to raise $35,000,000. A graduated allowance on the basis of $10 a month for service time, would amount to about $40,000,000, and an allowance of $10 a month for home service and $15 a month for overseas service would bring the total up to $50,000,000.

As the plan of the State's participation in the granting of a bonus will be more or less subject to the provision which is to be made by the Federal Government in the matter, it would seem that a final conclusion, so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, might be deferred until Congress has acted. This would not interfere with the proposal of an amendment to our State Constitution, however, so that no time need be lost in the accomplishment of the ultimate result.

AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture is still the greatest single industry in our Commonwealth. According to a preliminary report of the 1920 census, Pennsylvania now stands sixth in the total value of staple crops, of all the states in the Union. Its varied climatic and soil conditions make possible a great variety of types of farming, multiplying the problems to be solved both in regard to the character of the crops to grow and the problems relating to the control of plant pests and animal diseases. The nearness to large centers of population both within and without the borders of the State offers opportunities for markets and consequent marketing problems unequalled in any other State.

It is important that the State interest itself in and support the work of solving the agricultural problems that are beyond the control of the individual or the community. Such problems as the control of plant pests, diseases that attack our farm animals, and the distribution and marketing of our farm products, merit and demand special consideration from the State. The work of the Department of Agriculture in furnishing reliable market information, in establishing grades and standards for our farm products and in bringing about a more even and economical distribution of these products, is of benefit both to the farmers and consumers. This important work, too long overlooked and neglected, should have our attention and support.

Despite the fact that Pennsylvania is the sixth agricultural state in the Union, one phase in our agricultural development is still neglected—that of a State Fair. Many other states less important agriculturally than Pennsylvania have greatly stimulated and developed their agriculture, by bringing together each year the best products and the best livestock of the farms. The establishment of a State Fair for Pennsylvania has been advocated by the State Grange, the press and our agricultural interests generally. I would urge that the Legislature take steps toward the establishment of a State Fair such as our agriculture and industry warrants.

FORESTRY.

Within the past year the Department of Forestry has been reorganized throughout. With the assistance and approval of the Forest Commission, all of its methods and policies have been subject to a thorough-going reconstruction. A new system of accounts and disbursements on a budget basis has been prepared and applied. A well-organized plan of inspection has been devised and started. The area of forest land in charge of each Forester has been greatly increased, and there is certainly a new spirit in the field force. A system of co-operation, not only with the other Departments, but with civic organization throughout the State, is now in effect, and a large volume of information concerning the forests of Pennsylvania has been laid before the citizens. The people have been invited to use the State forests for recreation and enjoyment and have responded by thousands. The attitude of the whole State toward the question of Forestry and forest fires has radically changed, and is now far better than at any previous time in its history.

A new policy in tree planting has been adopted, including provision for the raising and distribution annually of at least 20,000,000 seedlings by the charitable and correctional institutions of the State, whose co-operation is most valuable. A new plan of practical assistance to owners of timberlands for the introduction of conservative methods of forestry, has met with notable response and is in successful operation.

Since the forests of Pennsylvania can now supply but one-fifth of the lumber indispensably necessary in agriculture and industry within the State, and since that small fraction will still further diminish in the near future, it is of the utmost importance to restore to forest production that part of the State which is valuable for no other purpose. One-sixth of Pennsylvania, which can grow trees but nothing else, is now barren and unproductive. Our first task in forestry is to restore it to production. For that purpose nothing is so important as the control and prevention of forest fires.

The State should acquire, as opportunity may offer, the five million barren acres which might properly be called the Pennsylvania Desert. This vast area can contribute immensely to the wealth and prosperity of our State by raising trees. For that purpose it should be in the hands of the State. The results of a far more careful and accurate investigation of the land necessary for this purpose than has ever been made before, will soon be laid before you.

EMPLOYMENT OF PRISONERS.

One of the most desirable prison reforms can be practically worked out by the provision of employment for the inmates of our penitentiaries and reformatories. Idleness is demoralizing and debasing under any circumstances, but, enforced upon our prisoners, it is cruel in the extreme and entirely destructive of all hope of individual reformation. There is no social or economic reason for the keeping of prisoners in idleness.

Our Prison Labor Commission, with the means at its command, has been able to accomplish much good in the employment of a small proportion of our prisoners, but the work should be greatly extended. In order to do this, it will be necessary to amend the laws forbidding the sale of prison-made products. If all State departments and institutions, counties, municipalities and those charitable enterprises which receive support from the State, should be required to purchase from the Prison Labor Board such supplies as may be furnished advantageously by the Board, useful employment could be provided for practically all of the unfortunate men and women who are now compelled to spend their long and lonely days in complete idleness.

Under the restrictive provisions of the present law, the courts of the various counties are compelled to sentence prisoners definitely to one or the other of the State Penitentiaries. The result is that the Eastern Penitentiary is greatly overcrowded, while there are empty cells and abundant room in the Western Penitentiary.

If a transfer of prisoners could be arranged much good would be accomplished and a ridiculous situation would be corrected. There should be some enactment permitting this, and providing that prisoners could be sent to either of the penitentiaries as best suited the situation existing at the time.

NATIONAL GUARD.

Real progress has been made in the reorganization of the National Guard, and too much credit cannot be given to the officers and men who, inheriting the traditions of the old Guard and the glorious record of the famous Iron Division, whose red keystone is a mark of valor, bringing pride to every Pennsylvanian, have done so much to re-establish and develop our military organization.

Many members of the Pennsylvania Reserve Militia, who came into the service of the State during the Great War and gave a sense of security to our people, have joined the new organization, and hundreds of our young service men have indicated their devoted patriotism by enlisting. Every encouragement should be given to the officers and men of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and adequate provisions should be made for the State's share in maintaining this splendid organization. It is a matter of great gratification to us that one of our veteran officers in active service with the Guard, has been appointed Chief of the Militia Bureau of the War Department with the rank of Major General. This indicates the esteem in which our military organization is held.

THE CAPITOL DEVELOPMENT.

The new office building upon the Capitol development plan which was authorized by the Legislature of 1919, has been started and is now well under way, the contract having been awarded at a very reasonable figure. The shortage of available space in Harrisburg for the public offices, and the necessity for providing convenient accommodations for some of the departments, now scattered all over the town, led the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings, as an emergency measure, to contract for the erection of four temporary office buildings, to the east of the Capitol. It is estimated that these buildings will pay for themselves at the prevailing rate of rentals, in less than four years, or long before the space they occupy is likely to be needed for further extensions in the Capitol plan.

During the rental stringency, other accommodations had to be secured for the necessary work of the State Government, and the new buildings will greatly relieve this situation and enable most of the State's employes to be grouped near to the Capitol, thus saving time and inconvenience.

Proposals were asked, upon two occasions, for the new Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge, on the line of State street, Harrisburg, which was authorized by the last Legislature, but no satisfactory bids were received, so that the question has been deferred until such time as the Legislature shall take further action upon the matter or until conditions become such as the Board shall feel justified in proceeding with the work. Meantime, the general plan for the development of the Capitol Park and its surroundings has been proceeding gradually.

I feel that we should take advantage of any decline in the cost of construction to proceed with the work of completing the ultimate plans for the provision of suitable office buildings and the beautifying of Capitol Park.

EFFICIENT HOSPITALS.

The Pennsylvania plan of extending State-aid to hospitals and other charitable and philanthropic institutions has been much criticized, but it cannot be denied that it has built up a great organization for real humanitarian service, and has contributed greatly to the well-being of our people by providing facilities in all parts of the State for the care of the ailing and unfortunate. Many of these institutions have had much difficulty in making both ends meet during the period of high cost, and it is particularly gratifying to know that their work is generally good, and that they stand foremost in the service which they give to the people who must depend upon them for alleviation of physical ills.

I have before me a letter from the Director of the American College of Surgeons, who has during the past six years given most of his time to a study of hospital conditions in the United States and Canada. In this he gives as his conclusion as a result of this investigation that "the hospitals of Pennsylvania outdistance, as a group, the hospitals of any other state in the union, in the exacting care which they render to patients." He allows great credit for this condition to the head of our Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure.

At the present time it would be entirely inadvisable to curtail the facilities of our hospitals and institutions receiving State-aid in their work of caring for those of our citizens who may need their services. Instead, we should insist upon better provision especially for our wounded and ailing service men. Many of these are now being cared for by our public hospitals, and all who need care should be promptly admitted.

THE REHABILITATION WORK.

The experiments in the rehabilitation of maimed soldiers and of those who have become physically impaired through industrial accidents, which was authorized two years ago, has worked out most successfully under the management of the Department of Labor and Industry. Pennsylvania has been a leader in this very practical plan of making useful, self-supporting citizens from those who have been crippled through no fault of their own. It is a most inspiring and laudable work, which we are doing and provisions should be made for its gradual extension. We could not make a better investment.

HOUSING PROBLEM.

The question of proper homes for the people, especially in our industrial centers, has given much concern during the past year. The great industrial development in certain sections of the State brought many workers to communities already overcrowded, and this situation was seized upon by conscienceless speculators to extort unreasonable rentals from families who sought homes. There has been some relief, due to the cessation of many abnormal industrial activities, but the question is still a serious one in many places.

In some states, laws have been passed which have not aided materially except to the general confusion, but some enactments would seem to be necessary to prevent a recurrence of such conditions and to encourage the building of desirable homes.

During the past year, there has been a truly remarkable increase in the number of building associations, especially in and about Philadelphia, and much money, saved for investment in that way, has become available for home-building purposes. Our banking department has been alert in encouraging and supervising these savings institutions, and it would seem that there might be some broadening of the powers of these useful corporations, so that their assistance, in a very necessary public work, might be more readily available.

The whole question, however, is one which will require careful study, and possibly the creation of a Commission, to look into all questions relating to the housing problem and to report in time for action at the present session, might be desirable. A study of recent legislation in other states, where conditions are similar to those prevailing here, might lead to some suggestions which would be helpful.

CITY LEGISLATION.

The new charter for the City of Philadelphia, which was provided by the last session, has been in operation for a little more than a year, and while it is difficult so soon to form an entirely clear opinion as to its workings, especially in view of the local political turmoil which has undoubtedly prevented the best results being shown, it is only fair that the plan be given a full trial, before changes of moment may be made. There are probably minor details which experience has shown might be improved but I feel that there should be as little tinkering as possible with the fundamentals of the new charter at the present time.

The census of 1920 shows that the territory included within the city limits of Reading and Erie contains, in each case, a population sufficient to warrant these municipalities being proclaimed as cities of the second class. There seems to be some reluctance upon the part of the citizens in both places to assume the responsibilities and attendant expenditures of this higher classification, and I have, therefore, delayed issuing the necessary proclamations, until the General Assembly shall have had an opportunity of changing the laws governing the matter, in case you consider it desirable so to do.

Amendment to the present law, providing for the classification of cities, which would raise the requirements of population of cities of the second class to 125,000, would not disturb the situation further than to leave Reading and Erie in their present positions, as third class cities. If no action shall have been taken by you upon this question, I shall regard it as my duty to issue a proclamation placing the cities of Reading and Erie in the second class, immediately upon the adjournment of this session.

The third class cities of the State have organized to secure certain changes in the acts affecting their powers and organizations. Undoubtedly as wide a measure of home-rule as is compatible with a systematic government should be given these enterprising municipalities, which comprise a large portion of the entire population of the State. In general, however, the third class city laws have worked well, and there should be no return to the confusion and irresponsibility which marked the old plan of miscellaneous city chartering.

It is a remarkable fact that Pennsylvania contains far more good-sized towns than any other State in the Union. While I have not the full details of the official census before me, my information is that there are, in this State, one hundred and sixty-five cities and boroughs containing populations of over five thousand. This is far more than are to be found in any other state, so that the legislation governing municipalities in Pennsylvania is of prime importance and should be very carefully studied. The Bureau of Municipal Research in the Department of Internal Affairs has been giving valuable assistance to some of the boroughs and smaller cities of the State, and its facilities are available for all of our municipalities.

INTERSTATE BRIDGES.

The State of New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia have joined us in the enterprise of building a great bridge over the Delaware River, between the cities of Philadelphia and Camden, and a start has been made in the engineering preliminaries of this important undertaking. Provision should be made for carrying on the work, and appropriations to carry this State's share of the expense should be made during this session of the General Assembly.

During the past two years, progress has been made in acquiring some of the interstate bridges on the upper portion of the Delaware River, between New Jersey and New York and this State. Each of our neighboring states upon the East have made, or will make further appropriations for buying the remaining bridges, and we should meet them and make such appropriations as will be necessary for the purpose.

THE PITTSBURGH CANAL.

The Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal Board has made some progress in interesting the Federal Government in the project for a waterway connecting the Greater Pittsburgh industrial districts with the Great Lakes. Canal transportation would help mightily in the development of Pittsburgh, and would place it upon a more advantageous basis in competition with the manufacturing centers in neighboring states. In view of the heavy toll taken from us in Federal taxation, it would seem to be the particular province of the National Government to take charge of this enterprise and to carry it to completion. The Pennsylvania Representatives in Congress could not do our State a better service than by securing prompt and favorable action, looking toward a realization of this great project.

OUR LAKE PORT.

The Harbor of Erie, our only port upon the great chain of lakes, has shown great possibilities for the development of its shipping with consequent benefit to the State. During the past year nearly two million and a half tons of iron ore for shipment to the industries of Pennsylvania have been landed at Erie, and heavy shipments of coal and other commodities have been made.

The State owns much valuable water-front land in Erie harbor, and also holds title to the beautiful and historic peninsula, known as Presq' Isle, which protects the harbor. This piece of land, located as it is, should be devoted to public use and enjoyment, and could be made into a superb park and pleasure ground for the people of the northwestern part of the State. The city and county of Erie have indicated a desire to co-operate with the Commonwealth in plans for the development of this natural park.

Proposed legislation will likely be presented to you, providing for the creation of a Commission, jointly representative of the State, the county and the city, to which may be entrusted the care and development of the park and the protection of the harbor. If arrangements can be made for the co-operation of the people of Erie in the matter, I would strongly recommend that the State join in the enterprise and give them such assistance as may be reasonable in carrying out the plans which they have in mind.

ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

Under the provisions of the Constitution, counties which shall have attained a population of 150,000 are entitled to have separate Orphans' Courts, created by proper enactment by the General Assembly. Five counties of the State come into this class as a result of the last census. I am advised that, in most of these counties, the present judges are able to fulfill all of the duties of their positions and keep abreast of the work, and that there is no need of the creation of additional judgeships. The present laws governing the Municipal Court in Philadelphia county and the County Court in Allegheny county provide for the creation of additional judges for certain increases in the population of these counties. My information is that there are now a sufficient number of judges in each of these courts to satisfactorily attend to all of the business coming before them, and that the appointment or election of additional judges would simply bring about additional expense, without any public need therefor.

The number of judges in Pennsylvania has been increased in recent years out of all proportion to the increase in population or business. New courts should not be created except where urgent necessity is shown and a change should be made in the laws providing for the special courts in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, so that there would be no requirement to establish additional places there.

THE CRIME WAVE.

The era of irresponsibility, which often follows periods of great public strain and excitement, seems to be manifested all over the world in an increase of criminal tendencies. In this country, where there has been manifest laxity in the enforcement of the law and the detection and punishment of criminals, the increase in the number of crimes of violence has been alarming. The advent of the automobile has greatly increased the radius of action of bandits and other malefactors, and has multiplied the difficulties in their apprehension. There is a general demand for more stringent laws and heavier punishments for crimes of this kind, and for greater alertness upon the part of our peace officers and greater severity by our courts.

For years some of our well-intentioned people have had a tendency to lessen the severity of our prisons, and to mitigate the sentences of the courts. Paroles and other methods of assisting criminals have been worked to the limit. These things seem to go in cycles and, when conditions return to normal, there will probably again be organized efforts to "reform" conditions and minimize the terror which the law should have for evil doers. Careful revision of some of the provisions of the penal laws might produce some startling inequalities. However, one important and effective deterrent influence is in the hands of our courts, in the imposition of wholesome sentences.

The greatly increased use of drugs is declared by students of the matter to be a great menace. There is no baser criminal than the individual who, for the sake of the illicit profit he may make, is willing to provide means for the destruction of his neighbor. The laws governing the drug traffic should be strengthened, their penalties increased and their provisions rigidly enforced.

THE STATE'S TRUST FUNDS.

Through the operation of the State Insurance Fund, of the Employer's Liability Insurance Branch, of the Teachers' Retirement Fund, of the various sinking funds and other agencies, there has been a great accumulation of securities represented by bonds in the hands of the State Treasurer. There are now many millions of dollars in the aggregate under his custody, and the business of his office ranks with that of great trust companies in its volume and responsibility. It will be necessary to make some provision for the proper care and accounting of these securities, the possession of which was not contemplated when the organization of the Treasurer's office was worked out. A thorough system for handling this matter should be devised and put into effect as early as possible.

REVISING THE STATUTORY LAW.

The statutory law of the Commonwealth has never been revised and is in great confusion, never having been contained in any single official publication for public reference. Where grouped together at all, it is contained in several volumes of unofficial digests, and even these latter do not comprehend all of the statutory law of the State. This has given rise to great uncertainty in the minds of our people, as to the controlling enactments relating to many important subjects. The other larger states have generally revised and codified their statutory law, and our failure to do so has caused much public disadvantage. A Commission, composed of able lawyers who could give their time to this most important work, should be authorized without further delay.

COMMISSIONS TO REPORT.

Several Commissions, entrusted with the duty of reporting upon many important subjects, have been at work since the last session of the General Assembly. Some of these matters are of great public interest.

The Commission for the Revision of the Tax Laws has prepared a most comprehensive report, and its recommendations, if enacted into law, would undoubtedly save the tax-payers a very large proportion of the present cost of assessing and collecting the taxes of the counties and municipalities.

The Commission to revise the banking laws has also many important recommendations to make in the line of simplifying and strengthening the statutes governing the banking business in the State.

The Commission to Revise and Codify the Laws relating to the Insane and Feeble-Minded, the Penal Code Commission, the Old Age Pension Commission, the Health Insurance Commission and the Commission to Investigate Laws Relating to Recording of Deeds and Mortgages have all been giving attention to the subjects for which they were appointed.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion I may say that while this program of suggestions and information has taken a long time in presenting our affairs are of great importance and we must give them business-like attention. I trust that the proceedings of the session may be expedited and that, as a beginning in our plan of economy and efficiency, we may be able to make this session as brief as may be possible in view of the work to be done. Everything can be disposed of in three active months, and we should be able to adjourn in the month of April. I shall be here in Harrisburg at all times to confer with you and to give you such help as I may. Let us go to our tasks with serious industry, remembering that good public service is our best political asset.

I thank you for your patience and courtesy.

WILLIAM C. SPROUL.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1921. No. 4.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, January 19, 1921.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. F. E. Baldwin) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the extension of our lives into another invigorating and beautiful day. Yesterday at the noon hour in joint session we listened with very deep pride and interest to one of the greatest messages by our Governor ever delivered to such an assembly; so broad minded and broad gauged was this message; so temperate and business-like; so comprehensive in all its provisions for the welfare of the people of this great Commonwealth, that we anticipate and pray for the complete co-operation and enthusiastic support of the members of this Senate and of the House in carrying out the plans of His Excellency, the Governor. We pray for all the members of this Senate and their families; for the employes and their families, but especially do we recommend to Thy favor and care at this time, our beloved friend Senator Norman A. Whitten and his dear family. Restore him, if possible to his normal health and strength, and unto Thy name will be given the glory and the honor, for ever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on the motion of Mr. BUCKMAN the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, January 19, 1921.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou who inhabitest the places of Israel, before whom angels bow in holy, loving service and rivalry of love, accept our praises, we ask Thee; for Thou hast been unto us a most merciful and gentle God.

We confess unto Thee our many faults; we admit our mistakes and errors: we ask Thee to purge us from all selfishness and sin, to enlighten our minds to see the right and proper way to walk in paths of virtue and of rectitude; and we beseech Thee that Thou wilt grant unto us the desire to so order our ways that they shall be found at all times to be in consonance with Thine divine and holy will.

Bless Thou the men of this House, and give unto them the things that are nearest and dearest to their hearts; and may the glory and honor be all Thine. Amen.

As the mountains are around about Jerusalem, oh God, so we ask Thee to rear up the palisades of our protection, and grant unto us that there may be reared the mighty hills that no man shall ever dare to blast through.

Give us a consciousness of Thy continued need and may we look to Thee in every hour for guidance and direction. Bless Thou us with a keen sense of justice, that we may never undertake anything through a false motive. Give unto us a high sense of solidarity that can come through a united people; that no enemy within or without shall ever break the continuity of thought and life among us.

Give us homes that shall be clean and pure, and may we look to Thee to guide us in all things and be kept by Thine everlasting hand. Amen.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. McCAIG, asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1 read for the first time.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that the bills that have been introduced this evening will be referred at the opening of the session to-morrow morning. The Chair will request that the chairmen of the several committees call their committees to order as soon after the session to-morrow as possible, for the purpose of organization and for the further purpose of considering the bills that will be referred to them. We expect from now on the Legislative work will begin in earnest, and if the committees will do their share and their part, the business of the House will be generally expedited. The Chair will request all the chairmen to find out the personnel of their committees and call them together and impress on them the importance of having a full attendance when there is any business before the committees. There may be some difficulty in regard to committee rooms. Some of the departments have been a little tardy in surrendering the rooms that they have occupied during the interim. The Chair wishes to state that although it may incommode the departments, the Legislature must have the committee rooms in which to meet, and if for any reason the chairmen of any of the committees find their rooms occupied or find that they cannot use the rooms assigned to them, the Chair requests that they refer the matter to him.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou in whose presence there is fulness of joy, and at whose right hand there are mercies forever and ever: the marks of Thy love is the impulse of our boldness as we come before Thee and crave of Thee Thy goodness and Thy love.

And especially would we implore Thee this morning for one of the members of this House whose bed-chamber has become a battlefield, and we crave of Thee that Thou wilt be his Good Shepherd, leading him along the waters of life, that they shall not lead to the waters of death. Give unto him that heartening courage, that he may by Thy grace face all things; and if it be Thy will to spare him, unto Thee shall be all the glory and honor.

And we ask Thee that Thou wilt look down on every member of this House, with all the trials and troubles that they bring nowhere else but to Thee; and grant Thy mercies may richly crown their lives. Amen.

There may be some instances where committee rooms are not as yet vacated,. The Chair is assured, however, that at the beginning of next week there will be at the disposal of all of the committees enough committee rooms for their accomodation. If at the present time committee rooms are occupied so that they cannot be used by the committees, the Chair would request that the committees find some other place to meet, either in the Hall of the House or in some other room,or in the lobbies or in the ante-room to the Speaker's room, and if they cannot find any place that is suitable for their meeting to-day, the Chair would request that they refer the matter to the Chief Clerk.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1921. No. 7.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, January 26, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God, on this coming Saturday we shall be reminded again of the anniversary of our martyred President's birth, and we thank Thee for all that his name stands for; for his long years of faithful service for his willingness to devote his talents and his time to his country, but especially for those closing hours in Buffalo, when amid the suffering that the assassin caused, he could say "Nearer, my God, to Thee."

And so we would take those words on our lips this morning, and ask that Thou wouldst draw us nearer to Thyself, that we may learn thereby to give unto Thee the best of our time and our talents and our thoughts, and yield unto our country, even as he did, willing service prompted by no mercenary motives, but glad to do that for the common good which shall bless and help all. We ask it in His name. Amen.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that he is rather disappointed that there have not been more bills reported this morning from committee. The Chair was desirous of having a large number of the one hundred and forty bills referred on Tuesday reported to-day, so that the House could start on Monday with a large working calendar. The Chair will request, if there are enough members present, that the committees who have not met to act on the bills that have been referred to them, meet immediately after the session, or this afternoon, for the purpose of stimulating the business of the House. The Chair will also request the chairman of the several committees to assist the Speaker in the promotion of the public business that is before them, and will urge upon the chairmen of the several committees the importance of acting on the legislation at the earliest possible moment after the bills are referred.

The Chair at this time also wishes to make the announcement that under the law the House will have four stenographers for the use of the members of the House. At the last session of the Legislature there were four stenographers who served the members of the House and the Chair has been informed that those stenographers were recipients of tips from various members for doing the work of the members. The Chair wishes to signify at this time that he very much frowns upon any such custom as that, and that the stenographers who are appointed for the members of the House and paid out of the public treasury are not expected to receive any tips from any members for any work done at any time, and in the event that the Chair hears of any stenographers receiving any tips he will request that the services of that stenographer be dispensed with at once.

PRAYER.

O God, from highest Heaven Thou hast declared as unalterable that Thou art no respecter of persons; before Thee all titles and dignities fall; and so we come before Thee on the plane of equality each one with needs and wants.

We ask Thee that Thou wilt so draw us to Thyself that Thy blesed Fatherhood may touch our hearts and warm our souls, that we shall have the true spirit of brotherhood because thereof; and may we practice the same in our daily life and conversation and exercise it wherever our influence may reach. And so, wherever this body can do anything that shall further that blessed brotherhood, give to them wisdom and strength and knowledge from on high.

We ask it in his name. Amen.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time wishes to supplement what he said last week in regard to tips and apply the prohibition of tips to the pages. There are to be no tips given by the members of the House for personal service, whether to stenographers or pages. Both stenographers and page boys, who serve the members of the House during the season, are paid by the Legislature for their service and they are to receive compensation from the Legislature only. The stenographers, also, are to receive no outside work during the sitting of the House.

The stenographers will be located on the third floor, where they will have their machines and transcribe the work of the members and where the members can have their services at any time.

The Chair will also request that the chairmen of all the committees meet him immediately after the session in the House Caucus Room.

The Chair will request the chairmen of the committees to observe the bulletin board and find out in what room their committees meet, and it might be well for the chairmen of the committees who meet in the same room to arrange between them hours for meeting that will not conflict. The Chair merely makes this a suggestion, and will now repeat the request that the chairmen of the committees meet with the Speaker immediately after adjournment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires at this time to lay before the House a communication from the Legislative Reference Bureau, which the Clerk will read.

The Legislative Reference Bureau requests the Chair to announce that when bills are to be drawn in the Bureau, that full information be furnished by personal interview with the Assistant Director who has charge of all bill drafting. If such personal interview cannot be had, full, specific and detailed information in writing must be furnished to the Bureau. The Bureau should not be called upon to draw bills where verbal information is furnished to clerks at the desk or to pages or to third parties. In most of such cases the information delivered is inadequate and in many cases incorrect.

RESOLUTION NO. 1.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 1, File Folio No. 1.

The SPEAKER. The Resolution will be read by the Clerk as follows:

The Resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Providing for the appointment of a Commission to investigate the price of coal and the distribution and marketing thereof with a view to a possible reduction in the price thereof; authorizing the Commission to appoint a secretary and stenographers and to fix their salaries; empowering the Commission to issue subpoenas and fixing the penalty for failure to obey such subpoenas; authorizing and empowering the said Commission to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall act as its attorney and make a report of its findings and recommendations thereon to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Whereas attention has been directed to the abnormally high prices of coal (particularly anthracite) prevailing in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas there appears to be no justification for the said high prices and the public welfare and interest demands that the reasons and causes of the said high prices be immediately investigated and ascertained so that appropriate action may be taken by the present Legislature with a view of effecting a reduction in the said high prices.

Now therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That a Commission to investigate the prices of coal (particularly anthracite) prevailing in this Commonwealth and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof, shall be immediately appointed.

The said Commission shall consist of five members and shall be appointed as follows: Two of the members thereof shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, two of the members thereof by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and one member thereof by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The said Commission shall organize immediately upon its appointment and elect its officers. The members of the said Commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be allowed all actual and necessary expenses in the performance of their duties. The Commission is authorized to appoint a secretary and one or more stenographers and to fix the salaries of the said appointees, which, together with the expenses of the Commission shall be paid out of the appropriation to be hereafter made for that purpose.

It shall be the duty of the said Commission to make full, thorough and searching investigation of the prices of coal (particularly anthracite) and the manner of its distribution and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof presently prevailing. It shall have power in any manner in which it may deem advisable to thoroughly investigate the marketing thereof with a view of obtaining a possible reduction in the prices thereof.

For the purposes of enabling the said Commission to carry out the provisions of this resolution, it is authorized and empowered to sit in any part of this Commonwealth and it shall also have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and other evidence, and for such purposes the Commission may issue subpoenas signed by the president thereof and cause the same to be served in any part of the Commonwealth.

If any witness shall refuse to testify to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any book or books, paper or papers within his possession or under his control, the secretary of the Commission shall forthwith report the facts of such refusal to the Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein such witness resides or wherein his or her attendance was required, and if the Court shall determine that the testimony or other evidence required of such witness is legal and competent then said Court shall make an order upon such witness commanding him or her to testify or to produce such book or books, paper or papers or both, or other evidence as the case may be. If such witness shall thereafter refuse to testify or to produce books or papers or other evidence as aforesaid, then the said Court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the County jail for contempt.

The said Commission is authorized and empowered to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall be the attorney for the Commission and who shall advise the Commission upon the request of any member thereof.

The said Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendation to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION REFERRED.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 33, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the eighteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws sixty-two) entitled "An Act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth providing for the payment of interest on and the redemption of such bonds by the Sinking Fund Commission and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act."

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before a vote is taken on this bill I would like to call attention that the Appropriation Committee, in a meeting in the committee room a week ago to-day, where the point was raised by a member of the committee that the committee having in charge this sale of bonds through the tight money conditions could not raise the money from the sale of the four and one-half per cent. bonds in 1920. The question was asked in the committee whether or not the short term bonds that had been sold by the State would be replaced by the commission having the sale of the bonds in charge by long term, higher rate bonds, and whether or not there was not an agreement to that effect. As I recall, and I think many members of the committee will bear me out, the Chairman of the committee said that no such agreement had been made. The Legislative Journal on page thirty-five in the Governor's message says that:

"Last year, owing to the extraordinary financial conditions prevailing in the country, we found it impossible to secure bids for our State bonds, bearing the interest rate of four and one-half per cent., fixed by law. However, with the co-operation of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, we were able to induce a group of patriotic Pennsylvania bankers to purchase $11,800,000 of short-term bonds, with the understanding that provision would be made as soon as possible, for the substitution of this temporary loan for permanent bonds, bearing a higher rate of interest. It will be necessary to increase the interest rate in the next offering, and legislation should be passed allowing the bonds to be sold at the prevailing rate of interest for securities of the kind, not to exceed the legal rate of six per cent."

That bears out the charge that was made in the committee that a deal was made to substitute long term, higher rate securities for the short term loan and not to have the bonds offered at public sale. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate for twenty long years I have worked in the investment and banking business and it is my earnest and sincere opinion if four and one-half per cent bonds to-day were offered to the people of Pennsylvania, particularly to those men paying enormous income taxes on corporation bonds even bearing six, six and a half and seven per cent, that you will find a mighty ready market for ten or fifteen million four and one-half per cent securities tax free in Pennsylvania, tax free so far as the United States of America is concerned, and I do not believe that this Commission, composed, as I recall it, of the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, should come in seeking help for the sale of these bonds until an earnest and honest effort has been made to sell such bonds out of the remaining fifty million as is necessary to accomplish the road work.

Mr. President, I will ask, therefore, that unless the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, will withdraw the bill, that this Senate defeat it, because I think it is setting up a bad precedent in the state, and I think that this Commission has not made an honest and earnest effort to sell the bonds at four and one-half per cent. The assessed valuation of this State is such that they make a mighty attractive security for a man who has money to invest either for an estate, for orphans, or to escape the income tax. The higher rates of securities are subject to the Federal income tax. I ask, second, to defeat it from the standpoint that the Governor admits in his message to the House and Senate assembled that the deal was made in which a short term loan was made with the understanding that the short term bond would be substituted by a long term bond bearing a higher rate of interest. I do not think it is a square deal to the people of the state who are groaning now under the burden of taxation, and I earnestly ask that the Senate defeat this bill unless the Chairman of the Committee withdraws it.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President I feel sir, that my word has been assailed by the Senator from Allegheny. I made no such statement as has been attributed to me by him. When asked in the committee meeting as to what arrangements the Governor and the others negotiating those bonds had made with the Association of Bankers who took the bonds, I told him I was entirely ignorant as to what might have occurred at that time, but that I was advised by the Legal Department of State of Pennsylvania, that those bonds that had been floated on the four and one-half per cent. basis, could not be refunded or exchanged without further legislation on the subject. I make this explanation in deference to myself. I do not have money for investment at this time but I am very frank in saying that if I did I would not buy the bonds of the State of Pennsylvania on a four and one-half per cent. basis when I could buy the bonds of the United States Government that would yield me between five and six per cent. interest on my money, nor do I believe that any other sane investor would invest his money in the bonds of the State of Pennsylvania on a four and one-half per cent. basis when money is worth more in other directions. This does not compel the issuance of bonds at six per cent. It only gives to the Governor of the Commonwealth, the State Treasurer, and the Auditor General of the Commonwealth the opportunity to float bonds upon the best terms that are obtainable by the investing public. I do not think that the point is at all well taken because I do believe that the Governor, the State Treasurer, and the Auditor General exhausted every method to try to sell the bonds on a four and one-half per cent. basis before they came to this Legislature and asked for the privilege of raising the rate if it were necessary to do so. If you want your road building program to continue and go through—and I believe that there is not a man in this Senate who is not in favor of a continuance of the road building program—you must provide the money to do it with, and the only method by which you can provide the money, in my judgment, is contained in the bill, by making it possible to secure the money at the best rates of interest that are obtainable from the investing public. I therefore hope that this bill may pass, and if there is a subsequent bill, as I understand there is likely to be one, coming into this body to enable the fiscal officer of the State to make an exchange of bonds, then will be ample time to discuss the wisdom that was exercised last year in the raising of the money that was necessary for the Highway Department to go ahead with the road building program, and if any information is desired upon that subject I have no doubt that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will furnish to this Senate such information as he possesses as to the means that were used to obtain the money that was secured in that way.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is a great pity, it seems to me, in the discussion of a matter that belongs entirely to the State and to the people, that the Chairman of the Committee must take offense at a remark that bears not toward him, but toward a principle, and not a person. Nothing was said by the Senator from Allegheny about the Senator from Chester, that I recall, that will in any wise justify him in taking the position that he has taken, but since he has accepted and taken the position, the Senator from Allegheny is willing that he should stand there. If the Senator from Chester will make a study of the situation, he will find that there is a great difference between the offering of bonds in 1920 and February, 1921. Only yesterday indemnity was settled so far as Germany was concerned. Your mark, your franc, and all your foreign exchange went up. Your bonds of corporations that were offered at ninety-four, ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven are to-day commanding as high as one hundred two and one-half. Your government bonds, it is true, bear five and one-half, five and three-quarters, or six per cent., but the gentleman must remember that there are only five or ten thousand, and under certain conditions, twenty-five or thirty thousand that are not subject to taxation. The rest of it is subject to a surplus tax of the government of the United States, while your State bonds, bearing four and one-half per cent., are absolutely free and clear of all taxes, and I do not think that the Commission is justified in coming here now, under the changed conditions, and asking for an increase of rate until they have met conditions as they now exist and offer them to the State of Pennsylvania at four and one-half per cent.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President. I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Yes, sir.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether he is correct in his statement as to the interest on government bonds being subject to taxation, and the interest on State bonds being entirely free from taxation, whether or not all bonds are not subject to the sur-tax.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, All municipal bonds?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President. Yes.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, no, sir, absolutely not. Your income from municipal bonds is free and clear. It cannot be taxed, it is free from either the normal or the sur-tax.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I would like to simply say then that the Senator from Allegheny has a different construction of the payment of sur-tax from the officials of the United States Government.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not agree with the Senator from Chester, and further than that, if he will go back farther, he will find that the Senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. Knox, who is an authority in the Senate, told Mr. McAdoo, the Secretary of the Treasury, that he could not in any way, shape, manner or form tax the income from municipal bonds or bonds of the State.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this bill provides for any public sale or competitve bidding for these bonds, or what provision is made in it for the sale of them, whether done by correspondence or whether it has been already done, if you know.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I do not know, excepting that it is contemplated that they shall be offered to the public in the same manner as bonds heretofore have been offered, as I understand it from the Department that handed me the bill to introduce.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, Do I understand then that competitive bidding is to be permitted for these bonds?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, Yes, sir.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1921. No. 10.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 2, 1921.

The House met at 10.30 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

Oh, our Heavenly Father, from whom cometh every mercy and good gift, we look to Thee this morning and ask Thy blessing upon the members of this House. They, in their own several capacities, have the welfare of no less than nine million people at stake. May the greatness of the task impress them, and may they search well their hearts to see that they shall measure up and be equal to the occasion.

Grant unto them that they may be the champions of everything that is good and noble and true. May they never compromise their consciences, and may they never parley to the cheap notoriety. Help Thou them to be true and firm, and yet to be consistent and always ready to be convinced; and bless Thou them with the strength to do the tasks that are set before them, so that it may be said of them at the close, that though they have been tried, they shall come forth as gold. Amen.

RESOLUTION NO. 1.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Concurrent Resolution No. 1, file folio 35, and move its adoption.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

Providing for the appointment of a Commission to investigate the price of anthracite coal and the distribution and marketing thereof with a view to a possible reduction in the price thereof; authorizing the Commission to appoint a secretary and stenographers and to fix their salaries; empowering the Commission to issue subpoenas and fixing the penalty for failure to obey such subpoenas; authorizing and empowering the said Commission to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall act as its attorney and make a report of its findings and recommendations thereon to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Whereas attention has been directed to the abnormally high prices of anthracite coal prevailing in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas there appears to be no justification for the said high prices and the public welfare and interest demands that the reasons and causes of the said high prices be immediately investigated and ascertained so that appropriate action may be taken by the present Legislature with a view of effecting a reduction in the said high prices.

Now therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur). That a Commission to investigate the prices of anthracite coal prevailing in this Commonwealth and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof, shall be immediately appointed.

The said Commission shall consist of five members and shall be appointed as follows: Two of the members thereof shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, two of the members thereof by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and one member thereof by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The said Commission shall organize immediately upon its appointment and elect its officers. The members of the said Commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be allowed all actual and necessary expenses in the performance of their duties. The Commission is authorized to appoint a secretary and one or more stenographers and to fix the salaries of the said appointees, which, together with the expenses of the Commission shall be paid out of the appropriation to be hereafter made for that purpose.

It shall be the duty of the said Commission to make a full, thorough and searching investigation of the prices of anthracite coal and the manner of its distribution and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof presently prevailing. It shall have power in any manner in which it may deem advisable to thoroughly investigate the marketing thereof with a view of obtaining a possible reduction in the prices thereof.

For the purposes of enabling the said Commission to carry out the provisions of this resolution, it is authorized and empowered to sit in any part of this Commonwealth and it shall also have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and other evidence, and for such purposes, the Commission may issue subpoenas signed by the president thereof and cause the same to be served in any part of the Commonwealth.

If any witness shall refuse to testify to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any book or books, paper or papers within his possession or under his control, the secretary of the Commission shall forthwith report the facts of such refusal to the Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein such witness resides or wherein his or her attendance was required, and if the Court shall determine that the testimony or other evidence required of such witness is legal and competent then said Court shall make an order upon such witness commanding him or her to testify or to produce such book or books, paper or papers or both, or other evidence as the case may be. If such witness shall thereafter refuse to testify or to produce books or papers or other evidence as aforesaid, then the said Court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the County jail for contempt.

The said Commission is authorized and empowered to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall be the attorney for the Commission and who shall advise the Commission upon the request of any member thereof.

The said Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendation to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House: I believe that the resolution has been on the files of sufficient length of time to enable each and every member of this House to become thoroughly acquainted with the purpose and object of the resolution so that it will not be necessary for me to make any extended remarks on it; but there are some matters which I desire to call to the attention of the members of the House because since the resolution was offered by me to this body certain statements and rumors were circulated by persons who have been lobbying against this resolution to the effect that what I propose by this resolution is the expenditure of an immense sum of money so that places could be obtained for some political followers. I want to disillusion the minds of any members of the House who think or had reason to think that was the case. My only purpose and object in bringing this resolution to the attention of the members of the House was to find out why the consumers in Philadelphia and other parts of the State where anthracite is used are compelled to pay at least five dollars more per ton of coal than what they really should pay. We know that in 1916 the price of nut coal, which is the kind of coal that is used in every household, f. o. b. shipping point was $3.75. At that time the freight from the coal mining regions to Philadelphia was $1.70 per ton and the charge that the retailer made for taking that coal from his coal yard and putting it down into the cellars of the consumer was $1.30 and that the price of coal to the consumer in 1916 on nut coal was $6.75 per ton. These are figures which are authentic and I have received them from men who have been in the business themselves and have sold coal to the consumers. Now since 1916 there has been an increase in the cost of production and it has been testified before an investigating committee of the United States Senate that the increase in the average cost per ton from 1916 to 1920 was $2.01, making the price of coal at the shipping point $5.76. The cost of transportation has also increased and instead of $1.70 per ton the cost is $2.74 or $2.64 per ton varying from the point from which the coal is shipped. The cost of delivering has likewise increased and the average cost that is being charged by the dealer in taking coal from the coal yard and putting it into the consumers' coal bin is $2.00, which would make the cost of nut coal per ton $10.52 delivered in the coal bin of the consumer in Philadelphia. What the consumer in Philadelphia is compelled to pay today is $15.50 or $16.00.

Now that is not only prevalent in Philadelphia, members of the House, but every one of you who lives in communities where anthracite coal is used knows that the price there is proportionally as high. In some counties and in some cities the price is even more than $16.00; it is even as high as $17.00.

What we want to know, what I would like to know, what I am asking you men to help me find out, is who gets this $5.00 which the consumer is obliged to part with? The coal operator who produces the coal says he is not making an exhorbitant profit. The retail dealer says that he is not exhorbitant in his charges. And yet we find that instead of paying $10.50 per ton, and that is assuming that the price at the shipping point is a fair price, we are paying $15.50 and $16.00 which is $5.00 more than what we really should pay. We should be paying $10.50 and we pay $15.50 and $16.00. As I see it the operator passes the buck to the retail dealer and the retail dealer passes the buck to the operator and they both pass the buck with the consumer in the middle and he has got to foot the bill. Now as I see it, it is not fair to the consumer and the consuming public who have to pay for the coal.

Now I am not going to take up much time of the House. The matter is too clear for argument. What I desire is that a commission be appointed to investigate the causes and reasons for this high price. Some evil exists and we ought to get to the root of the evil so that proper legislation may be enacted to protect the public and that it will be obliged to pay only that which is fair and reasonable May I say to this House that while the resolution does not call for any appropriation I have a bill on my desk now ready to be presented when this resolution is adopted which carries with it an appropriation of $5000.00 to defray the expense of this commission. I do not think it ought to take $5,000 to investigate conditions because here in Harrisburg we have plenty of information which we might get.

We cannot introduce legislation to cover a condition which we do not know; we do not know who is responsible for this condition.

I don't think that it would take very much time to investigate these conditions and it is my sincere hope that if the commission is appointed it will get busy and make a report at this session. I therefore Mr. Speaker, move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, after hearing the report of the investigation of the coal industry conducted by the gentleman from Philadelphia, it really should not be necessary for me to make the motion which I propose to make. It certainly was very illuminating, or should have been, to the members of this House to hear the report about this one-man investigation. Now the gentleman from Philadelphia asks the House of Representatives to help him to find out where the other $5.00 goes. Now we propose to help him, and, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move you that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations so that it can become effective and that the gentleman from Philadelphia can find out where the other $5.00 bill goes.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I know the purpose of referring this resolution to the Appropriations Committee. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Dawson, had that thought in mind last week when the resolution was called up. He is not doing that at all to help in this matter. I want to be frank with the members of this House. This resolution has already been referred to a committee. I think the membership of the Judiciary Special Committee is composed of capable men, if they were not capable, you as Speaker of this House would not have appointed them to this committee. At the meeting held by the Judiciary Special Committee last week after a full and thorough discussion, participated in by I think every member who attended that meeting, this resolution was reported out after a vote had been taken. Now, I think, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that you have confidence in the committees that have been appointed by the Speaker. If you think that the members of the different committees—

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, my motion has nothing to do with the integrity of the members of the different committees which he is discussing.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, as I said a minute ago, gentlemen of the House, I think the membership of the Judiciary Special Committee is just as capable to discuss a matter of this kind as the membership of any other committee, and I mean no reflection upon anyone. The men who attended a meeting of that committee discussed it pro and con. The matter was thoroughly gone into. Every member who was present had an opportunity to discuss the matter, and after a vote the resolution was ordered reported out. I say to you again, Mr. Speaker, it will mean a reflection on the workings of the committees if after a committee has done its work faithfully, conscientiously and honestly and reports a bill to the House, some other member not agreeing with the judgment of a majority of that committee comes here and succeeds in having the work of that committee upset and referred to another committee causing reflection upon that committee. I do not know where we will get with our legislaiton. We might as well stop and ask the different gentlemen of the House where they want certain bills referred. I sincerely hope members of the House, that you will defeat this motion, because I do think it is not only unfair to the judgment of the committee, but it is unfair to the members who constitute the committee.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr .Glass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Yes, sir.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if it is not a fact that the Congress of the United States has already appointed an investigating committee to investigate this very same proposition which his resolution covers.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I think there is a commission which is investigating. I want to say for the enlightenment of the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips, that that very commission is looking to us here in Harrisburg for information, and if the gentleman from Clearfield will see me after we have adjourned, I will refer him to my authority for making this statement.

Mr. PHILLIPS. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman. Does this resolution that he has offered at this time provide any method of punishment for any person that you found was profiteering.

Mr. GLASS. This resolution is just for the purpose of fighting out the causes and reasons. It is the thought, it is my thought at least that after the commission has found out the trouble, that it then recommend appropriate legislation to this House.

Mr. PHILLIPS. I would further like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Have we a law on the statute books of the State of Pennsylvania to-day to punish a man for profiteering?

Mr. GLASS. To my knowledge, Mr. Speaker, we have not.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what will be the use of the investigation if we have no law to punish a person for profiteering, and if we have no punishment in his act to punish any person for selling coal for more than it is worth?

Mr. GLASS. I am glad the gentleman from Clearfield put this question. That is just what we want to find out. We want to find out what the trouble is, and then we can legislate freely to take care of the situation and see that it does not occur again.

Mr. PHILLIPS. One more question, Mr. Speaker. Does not the gentleman from Philadelphia think that it would be better to pass a law punishing the profiteers before we pass this resolution?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am in favor of any legislation which will curb profiteering and protect the interests of the consumer, I do not care what line of profiteering it is. My thought in the matter is this, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that when we have investigated and have found that the coal operator has made a certain condition possible, and I may say to the gentlemen of the House that a certain condition has been brought to my attention, and I will just illustrate. John Smith, for instance, who is a retail dealer, who sold coal in 1916 could give his order, say for instance to the Susquehanna Coal Co. or any other coal company, and his order would be filled, and the coal would be shipped directly to him in his coal yard. Today he cannot get his coal from the Susquehanna Coal Company,—I am just citing the Susquehanna Coal Company as an illustration,—because that particular coal company for some reason or other has made it possible for certain brokers, I do not care what you call them, to get the entire output and Mr. John Smith, a little retail dealer, must come to this broker and pay him his bonus and then he will get his coal. If he does not pay it, he does not get it, and the consumer, if he don't pay him he does not get the coal and must freeze.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as a member of the Judiciary Special Committee, I opposed this resolution in committee. The real reason for opposing it was because I felt that those who are behind this resolution are not sincere in their investigation when they refuse to investigate the bituminous coal field. I come from the anthracite coal fields, and have represented the anthracite coal miner and have debated with the coal operators and have gathered statistics in the anthracite field, and let me say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that five thousand dollars will not investigate one colliery. You are not going to investigate a peanut stand when you are going to investigate one of the largest industries we have in the State of Pennsylvania. There is not a colliery or two or three collieries in the anthracite coal fields that operate under the same terms, and before you can strike at any basic tonnage rate or basic day rate, you must investigate every colliery in the anthracite coal fields. I am for investigation, yes, because in the past six months I have been among the bituminous operations in West Virginia where women and children have been murdered because they demanded what was right down there. They told us in committee that they are selling this coal for three dollars a ton, and that the bottom has fallen out of the bituminous region. Bah! We know what they are paying in wages in the bituminous fields. It is practically the same scale there as in the other coal regions—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAVIS. The gentleman is not speaking upon the question that is before us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has allowed a broad field in the discussion of this question, both upon the resolution and upon the motion to refer it. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, will proceed.

Mr. FOWLER. I will come over to your bituminous fields yet before I am through. Let me say that I do not blame Mr. Davis for he might be interested in the bituminous fields and I am also interested in coal miners and the business people in my district. You know I have been looked upon in this House as a fellow that has been wearing horns because I happen to represent labor, and perhaps you are knocking to-night because I am saying a word against this resolution. Let me say this to you, that I do not blame the bituminous operators, even Mr. Davis if he was one, for not being for this proposition because the operators in Pennsylvania have absolutely been fair with their labor and the investigation of the operators in Pennsylvania only is an injury to the operators who have been fair to labor; when the United States government permits the operators of West Virginia to steal the markets under reduced rates away from them that is what I am after, so if you just keep quiet, I will help you out here. We have in the eastern cities, New York, Boston and other large cities in the east, I understand, and, yes, I believe you have a smoke ordinance in Philadelphia. You have ordinances against the smoke nuisance. The bituminous operators of other fields would be very glad to create an investigation here in Pennsylvania, spend Pennsylvania's money to make the investigation for the benefit of whom? For the benefit of other states, and therefore perhaps agitating so far as having the councils of the various cities of the New England states going on record as to opening the gates to the bituminous coal operators, and thereby crushing the anthracite industry and stealing our markets and placing the anthracite coal digger working two or three days a week—let me say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that once you place the anthracite coal digger at two or three days a week, you are going to increase the cost of production, because it is going to cost that old coal digger just as much to live whether he works two or six days a week. Let me say to you gentlemen from Philadelphia especially, if you cut the word "anthracite" out of that bill, I will go along with you. I will tell you another thing I will fight with you to put in appropriations sufficient to carry out this investigation. But we know something about gathering statistics. True, our friend has quoted some facts that Mr. Louck has gathered for the United Mine Workers of America, and it has cost the United Mine Workers of America in the neighborhood of twenty-six to thirty-two thousand dollars to do it, and yet he wants to go into the anthracite coal fields and make the investigation with five men for five thousand dollars. I say to you, my friends, I do not believe you could even investigate me up there for that price. I want to say to you that my only objection to this resolution is an honest objection, because, regardless of what position I hold in labor, I still believe in the protection of industries in Pennsylvania. I do not believe that we should crush the industries of Pennsylvania, and let the advantage be given to the coal operator of the South, in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and West Virginia, where they are crushing labor to-day.

Mr. JEFFERSON W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am not very keen about investigations as a general rule, but I hope that the House will go on record one way or the other in regard to this investigation. I am somewhat surprised at the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler. During the war, when the government had the anthracite coal and the bituminous coal under its control, I believe the price set by the government was about $7.25 a ton at the mines. At the present time, immediately after the government gave up control, as I understand the situation, the miners united to make a new demand for an increase in wages. The operators thought,

"While the miners are entitled to something, we will just tell the retailer we will put one dollar on the ton." After the miners' situation had been settled and the allotment was made as to what they were to get—I think they got about fifty per cent out of that one dollar, but they still charged the dollar or more. The miner did not get the benefit of the one dollar increase. He got about one-half. I would have been glad to see the miners get their proportion of this large amount of money which the people in Philadelphia and eastern parts of the State and other places where we have to use anthracite coal are paying. Now, I had occasion during last week to call upon my coal man, and he gave me these figures, which I read from his bills. He is paying to-day at the mines for pea coal, seven dollars and twenty-five cents; his freight and war tax is two dollars and forty-five cents, making a total of eight dollars and seventy cents. For his egg and nut, he is paying at the mines nine dollars and twenty-five cents, and his freight and tax is two dollars and seventy-five cents. He is thus paying twelve dollars. Now, he would be very glad to do that if he could get the coal at that price, but unfortunately to him, in conjunction with a great many coal dealers in the eastern part of the state and particularly in Philadelphia, in Jersey and in New York, the proposition is put, "We can give you all the coal you want if you give us a bonus of two dollars a ton." To show you the inconsistency of it, adjoining his yard, and I was there last Thursday myself and looked at the two coal piles, and they were within the distance of the two walls here, on the one side was the man who paid two dollars bonus a ton more than my coal dealer would pay. My coal dealer had a standing order for three hundred tons of coal per month from the party who charged this man two dollars a ton bonus. He did not receive any coal from that operator, or rather from the sales agent for six weeks. This other gentleman went and orderd his coal and paid two dollars a ton bonus, and he ordered his coal on Thursday, and on the following Monday he got his coal shipped into that yard when my coal dealer could not get it for six weeks. Now I do not know where this fault lies. I am not claiming that the individual operator or the broker or the retailer, I do not know who is at fault, but I do know this, that there has never been in my experience, and I know it is the experience of every man in this House, such a profiteering situation as there is in the anthracite coal business as there is to-day. It would be good enough if we could have gotten the coal, but we couldn't. There are people in Philadelphia and the eastern part of the State who got their orders in May and have not gotten their orders filled now. I think every man in this House should go on record, especially as the Judiciary Special Committee had a fair good hearing on this resolution and considered it at all angles. We will leave it to the members of the House, and I hope the members will adopt the resolution.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to notify Mr. Glass that the Susquehanna Coal Company sells its coal direct in Philadelphia.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. Yes, sir.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, whether he did not understand me to say that I used the Susquehanna Coal Company simply as an illustration.

Mr. BALDI. I do know that. Now I want you to understand that they are selling direct, and also he states, Mr. Speaker, that the coal dealers of Philadelphia are selling coal at fifteen fifty and sixteen dollars a ton. I happen to know that it is fifteen dollars in Philadelphia, and the ton in Philadelphia is a gross ton of twenty-two hundred and forty pounds.

I do not know where Mr. Glass got his information that it was sold for fifteen dollars and fifty cents and sixteen dollars. When you speak of the difference in price at the mines, there are the independent miners and the company miners. Now, the company miners are able to put out the coal a trifle cheaper than the independent miners, because the conditions existing in those particular mines are different. Mr. Glass forgot that when coal is mined, they don't only get stove, nut, egg and pea sizes, they have the barley, buckwheat, rice and other sizes, and on those sizes they lose. In order to meet their monthly statements of profit, all the largest sizes are taken into consideration with the smaller sizes, and I might inform Mr. Glass that the smaller sizes from buckwheat down are very hard to dispose of, and in order to get rid of it, they force it on the coal dealers together with the other sizes.

Now, Mr. Glass also forgets that an investigation like this would go into months. Mr. Glass forgets that five thousand dollars as Mr. Fowler says, would no more investigate one of the sections than it would investigate a good peanut stand, in which I agree with Mr. Fowler. In order to make a proper investigation, it cannot be done in one or two months. I wish coal were twelve dollars and fifty cents. When coal was a little lower, the dealers got more profit, but it is impossible to bring it down to even semi-normal prices, and I think that if the men in this House, which is considering this resolution think it over, they will certainly be against it. Mr. Glass might tell us he is sincere. Perhaps he is, but I do not think that Mr. Glass knows enough about the coal problem to offer such a resolution. I think if he had considered again, he would be very glad to recall this socalled concurrent resolution.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask why the hard-hearted hard coal miners want to send this resolution to a coal bin.

Mr. BALDI. I think you would have to pick out a hard-headed member of the Legislature to answer that question. I cannot.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. Yes, sir.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia why he says that it would be impossible to bring the prices of nut coal down to twelve dollars and fifty cents a ton, if he knows?

Mr. BALDI. Well, do you understand that the freight rates have already been settled?

Mr. GLASS. I understand the entire situation. I want you to answer the question. I am asking you the question.

Mr. BALDI. You also state the freight rate is two dollars and seventy-five cents. I might enlighten you on that. From some districts in Pennsylvania, when coal is shipped to Philadelphia, we pay as high as three dollars and twenty cents on a ton.

Mr. GLASS. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, whether he is in the coal business.

Mr. BALDI. I am. I happen to know what I am talking about, Mr. Glass.

Mr. GLASS. I desire to further ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether it is not true that thirty per cent. of the coal which we get, which the consumer gets is composed of refuse and impurities.

Mr. BALDI. No, sir.

Mr. GLASS. What is the proportion?

Mr. BALDI. What do you mean by pure and impure and coal?

Mr. GLASS. Slate and stone and all such things.

Mr. BALDI. The coal coming into Philadelphia at the present time is just about seventy-five per cent better than it was about four months ago.

Mr. GLASS. How much purer was it then, Mr. Baldi?

Mr. BALDI. Well, it all simmers down so far as the quality of the coal is concerned, it is like buying a suit of clothes. I know this, you can buy an inferior coal and you can buy good coal. When the people of Philadelphia are paying fifteen dollars a ton for coal, they are really paying from one to six dollars less than other states are paying, and in the state of Pennsylvania we have sections where they are paying more than fifteen dollars. When the gentleman talks about fifteen dollars and fifty cents and sixteen dollar coal in Philadelphia, I am here to say he doesn't know what he is talking about.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, as for this resolution, I think it is just and fair to us all. We are here to represent the public in general. We all know at the present time the price of coal is abnormal, much higher than what we should pay, and it is our duty to investigate and see where the fault lies with this profiteering. It is our duty to protect the public under all conditions, and I should say it does not make any difference who is the fault of it if we can find out and remedy these conditions it is our duty to do so, and even if it takes five or ten thousand dollars, it is worth any amount of money at any time to protect the public in general.

So far as Mr. Phillips is concerned about this investigation by the United States government, I want to say to you gentlemen we are here to legislate especially for the state of Pennsylvania. We have nothing to do with other coal fields. Let other states take action on these measures, but I say this, it is our duty to protect the citizens of the state of Pennsylvania, especially. Therefore, I ask you gentlemen to vote for this resolution.

I cannot see any benefit in sending this resolution back to another committee. I think the committee considered this resolution faithfully. They are asking us to sustain and uphold it, and I think it is the duty of everyone to do so, and therefore I ask you all to support this resolution.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I hope that this resolution is not sent to the Appropriation Committee. While I am a member of that Committee and would be pleased to consider a proposition of this kind, yet the Speaker has sent that resolution to a committee which has considered it thoughtfully and honestly and reported it out to this body with a favorable recommendation. There are from four to five parties concerned in this resolution; there are five parties watching this resolution, and one of these five is the operator. Have the operators done wrong? No; they have not done any wrong; they are not afraid of an investigation, and why could they be opposed to this resolution? Then there is the carrier: Has the coal carrier done wrong? No; then why should the coal carriers of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania oppose this resolution? There is another class that comes between the dealer or the retailer and the coal carrier, and he is the broker. Has the broker done wrong? No. Then why should he be opposed now to this resolution? If none of these parties who are concerned has done any wrong, why should they be opposed to a resolution which is proposed in the interest of the people of this great Commonwealth? The consumer is the one man who must pay the bill. They say there is an investigation going on in Washington. Yes, sir; there is, and they are waiting to see what Pennsylvania is going to do; what is going to happen in Pennsylvania. Why? Because within a radius of one hundred miles in the State of Pennsylvania all the anthracite coal is mined, and if Pennsylvania has no use for an investigation of the products of the Commonwealth, why should the national government investigate the mines in Pennsylvania? It is said here that we are paying from twelve to fifteen dollars a ton in Philadelphia for anthracite coal. My friend Mr. Baldi says that he is in the coal business. I want to tell you something: I bought my coal a few months ago when they said it was going higher and I paid fourteen dollars a ton for it. Why, one-half of that coal is either coal dirt or slate or stone—at least one-half of it is either coal or dirt or slate. In 1914 the people of this Commonwealth paid from six to seven dollars a ton for coal, and every ton of it was screened and every piece of slate was taken out and there was but little dust and no stones and we got 2,240 pounds in a ton. At the same ratio to-day, with the weight of the dirt and slate calculated, we are paying not fourteen or fifteen dollars and fifty cents or sixteen dollars a ton for coal, but we are paying twenty-four dollars a ton; and I say, gentlemen of the House, that it is time to investigate this tremendous profiteering and gouging while the consumers, the common people, are paying the bills. In my district hundreds of men are walking the streets because they are out of work. How can those men pay from fifteen to sixteen dollars a ton for slate and for dirt, which is sold to them for coal—why they have to buy it by the bucket. You speak of $5,000 to investigate this matter. Why, whether it be five thousand or not, this great Commonwealth ought to open her treasury and use if necessary, a few hundred thousand dollars to protect the people of the Commonwealth from gouging, and it should be considered as nothing compared with the millions of dollars that profiteers are taking out of the pockets of the consumer.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat surprised that in the course of this discussion it develops that the Philadelphia Representatives are under the impression that nearly all the coal of Pennsylvania is mined up in Lackawanna County and bought in the city of Philadelphia. Why, there are nearly nine millions of people in the State of Pennsylvania who are interested in this proposition, not only those who cosume anthracite coal but those who consume bituminous coal, and I am frank to say that I was much more in sympathy with the resolution as it formerly was in its form when it provided for a thorough investigation of the entire coal situation in the State of Pennsylvania than I am in its amended form when it is a one-sided affair. If there was any profiteering in the hard coal business in this State, then there was profiteering in the bituminous mining of coal. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he wants to convey to me or convey to the members of this House the fact that he is convinced that there is profiteering in the handling of anthracite coal in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, to answer the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, I will say to him that there is profiteering, but I don't know who is doing the profiteering. We know what the cost of coal per ton is at the shipping point, f. o. b. Of course we know what the consumers pay, but where the difference is between the two we don't know. This proposes to find out; the purpose of this resolution is to do that, we want to find out what the condition is.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he has submitted the facts he has in hand to the Mayor of Philadelphia.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what the purpose of the gentleman from Tioga is, but I want to assure him that I am not jesting. There is no member of this House who is more sincere about legislation on this question and I don't think that the gentleman meant what is implied in his question.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I did mean it, and I am going to ask another one.

Mr. GLASS. Go as far as you like.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I want to know if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, submitted this to the District Attorney of Philadelphia.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I submit bills to this Legislature. I submit nothing to anybody else. I do not present any bills to the district attorney of Philadelphia or to the Mayor of Philadelphia, or to anyone else but this body. It is for this body to consider this resolution, and it is this body to whom I appeal and I appeal to no one else. I am here looking after the interests of the public, and I think I am able to look after their interests without submitting anything to any one else.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, whether the gentleman submits the facts to the mayor or not, I want to ask him if he has submitted the facts to Ex-Lieutenant Governor Frank McClain, the executive director of the Committee of Public Welfare.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, It was necessary for me to consult the former Lieutenant Governor of this Commonwealth and if the gentleman from Tioga had read the statement made by the Lieutenant Governor some time ago on this subject, he would have known that the Lieutenant Governor himself said that a commission should be appointed and that this question should be investigated. I want to say to you that the former Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, Mr. Frank B. McClain, is in favor of this investigation because he has so expressed himself, fully.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that there was a resolution similar to this one before this body in 1915, calling for the appointment of a commission to investigate the increased cost of anthracite coal at that time. That commission provided for a report to be made on the following January—January 1, 1916, and afterwards submitted a complete report to the Legislature on the first of January, 1917. The result of that investigation was that the commission justified the increase in the cost of coal, and they further reported that they regretted that they did not have more time in which to investigate all the phases of the coal business. If that commission was unable in eighteen months to investigate all the phases of the coal business, how do you expect in two months to bring about a report at a time which would practically be when this House expects to adjourn, if we follow out the suggestions of the Governor

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why he eliminated, in the resolution for investigation, the bituminous coal fields.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I had been informed by members of this House, for whom I have the highest respect, that the bottom had fallen out of the bituminous coal market, and I did not think that it was worth while to take up the time of the commission, if such were appointed, to investigate conditions which no longer exist. I will say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if the price of anthracite was $10.50, delivered, there would not have been any cause for an investigation.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of information for Mr. Glass and the rest of the House, I want to tell you that when he talked about profiteering I think he will find on investigation that there was just a little bit more in the bituminous than in the anthracite. If he thinks there was profiteering in the anthracite I am satisfied he would find upon investigation profiteering in the bituminous field. When he speaks of reducing the price of coal on the basis of a unit of wages then we will see a lower price in the coal, and, gentlemen, I hope that you will consider this resolution as coming from one that I am here to say is unfamiliar with the conditions that exists both at the mines and at the retailers' offices.

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, after the listening to the various speakers, to my mind it comes down to a point, the question of the money to be appropriated. I am not sure that there is any member of this House or even the spectators but that will agree that the amount is ridiculous for such a big problem. That is my principal objection to voting for the resolution.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to take up the time of this body, but we are not discussing now an appropriation. The resolution carries with it no appropriation, and that is one reason why it should not be referred to the appropriations committee. I have a separate bill here in my hand which I will introduce, and I hope in the usual course it will be referred. I think the gentlemen of the Appropriations Committee who are so very generous to give us more money to spend, can increase it or they can reduce it. They can consider it at the proper time, but at the present time there is nothing to be considered by the Appropriations Committee. As I said before, the resolution has been considered by a committee of this House, and was favorably reported to this body. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote "No" on this motion to recommit the resolution to the Appropriations Committee, and on the motion I ask that the roll be called and the yeas and nays taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Glass and Mr. Dawson and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE DEATH OF THE HONORABLE JOSEPH T. FOSTER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will suspend action on the calendar for announcing at this time the unfortunate death of one of our members, the Honorable Joseph T. Foster, of Venango County. Mr. Foster was born in Sandy Creek Township, Venango County, June 30th, 1862. He was educated in the public schools of his native township, and graduated from the Edinboro State Normal School. He was engaged in farming and in the production of oil. He held many township offices.

It is needless to state that Mr. Foster was a man well known and well respected in the County of Venango. We all knew him here during the past session, and it was most unfortunate that his serious illness prevented his coming to the present session and being sworn in as a member of the session of 1921. Mr. Foster was a modest man, he was a charitable man, and was a man who will be missed seriously by all of the members of the House.

Unfortunately the Chair could not select the entire House to attend the funeral at such a time as this, but has selected a committee to represent the House of Representatives at the funeral tomorrow, which committee is as follows: The gentleman from Venango, Mr. Haslett; the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Finney; the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Bolard; the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Allum; the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, who will act as Chairman of the Committee; the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Sweitzer; the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Fox; the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schilling; the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Jordan, and the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wade M. Henderson.

The Chair is informed that the Committee will leave on the midnight train for Franklin, Venango County.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Venango, Mr. Haslett.

RESOLUTION FOR ADJOURNMENT IN MEMORY OF THE HONORABLE JOSEPH T. FOSTER.

Mr. HASLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and unanimously agreed to:

Resolved, That when this House adjourn it shall do so out of respect to the memory of the late Honorable Joseph T. Foster, a member of this House whose death has just been announced by the Speaker, such adjournment to be until 11 A. M. tomorrow.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that there will be a memorial service in honor of Mr. Foster some time later in the session.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 129, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-seven of an act, approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth, providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to Counties and Townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvements, maintenance and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of townships, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, County, Township, Borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, in kind of materials to be used in the improvements; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injury or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in order to clear the record of last Tuesday, and with all due courtesy to the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, I desire to direct the Senate to the first column of page 96 of the Legislative Journal, in which the Senator from Allegheny speaking was interrogated by the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, and was asked whether or not the interest on State bonds and the subdivisions thereof were not subject to the sur-tax of the Government of the United States. The reply given was that all municipal bonds were free and clear of all taxes, normal tax and sur-tax. To confirm that I secured from the Collector of Internal Revenue at Pittsburgh the following letter, directed to C. M. Barr and Company, under date of February 5th:

"This office is in receipt of your letter of February 4th, 1921, requesting information relative to preparing your income tax returns for the year 1920.

In reply, please be advised that interest received on municipal bonds, state, county, borough, school districts of township bonds, are exempt from both the normal tax and sur-tax.

Yours very truly,

C. G. LEWELLYN,
Collector."

Mr. President, this statement is made in order to clear the record for those who have access to the Legislative Journal, both the members of the House and those of the State to whom this information has gone, with the idea that their minds may not become confused if the bonds are offered at four and one-half per cent., or any other rate, by the Commission of the State having in charge the sale of the bonds of the State of Pennsylvania. I thought it was due to that Commission, as well as to the people, to offer the explanation, not only to the Senate, particularly to the Senator from Chester, with all due courtesy, but also to the House and the people.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12.27 P. M. until Monday, February 14, 1921, at nine o'clock P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 8, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God Almighty, in Thy right hand resideth all the strength of the earth. Gladly would we leave it there, for only in Thy love and wisdom can it be properly used. May we never arrogate to ourselves the place that belongs to Thee, and may we never assume the right to make this world go by the order of force or the sword.

Help us to see the wrecks of history where it has been tried, and may a higher order of reason be prevailing among us, and greater and better than reason itself, may that divine law of God be ever our pole star in all that we shall do. Amen.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, for several years, or rather for several sessions, the members of the House from time to time when dental legislation would come before us, have asked me to give them certain information regarding the different bills. That was because of the fact that I am a practicing dentist and so to-day we have a bill before us of a dental character, and I feel that it is my duty to say a word to you regarding the good features that it possesses.

As a matter of history in the science of dentistry, operation of certain crude forms have been going on for possibly four hundred years, but it was not until 1839 that dentistry became a regularly recognized profession. In that year was established the first dental college in the United States, and from that time the members of dental societies which have been organized throughout the country have been each one in turn trying to do all that they possibly could for the advancement of the science of dentistry, keeping abreast of the times so to speak. To-day as the result of the efforts of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society working in co-operation with Dr. Martin, the Commissioner of Public Health, we have a bill before us creating what are termed dental hygienists. These dental hygientists are men or women beyond the age of nineteen or twenty who have had four years of high school training, after which they will enter the University of Pennsylvania Dental College, the Pittsburgh Dental College, or any other reputable dental institution of its kind in this State. After an examination, at the end of one year, they will be sent to some sanatorium there to practice their work which shall consist solely of cleaning the teeth and scraping the tartaric deposits that surround the tissues bordering upon the teeth. This is where many diseases, where the formation of many diseases are in a position to do bodily harm to patients from various standpoints, and one of them is, and we know it to be a fact recognized by the dental and medical professions, that tuberculosis in certain stages has its formation in the germ life that surrounds the teeth.

I have no desire at this time to go into any lecture on dentistry because I feel that you men, representing as you do one million eight hundred thousand school children in the State of Pennsylvania, are willing to co-operate with the boards of trade, the chambers of commerce, the Health Department and the dental societies in passing this bill so that we can have these dental hygienists go to work under the personal supervision of the licensed and qualified dentists and not otherwise. These hygienists cannot go out into the open market and practice this form of dentistry, they must do it under the observation of a regularly licensed dentist. So I would like the men to understand that this is not to give them any permission to go out into the world and practice wherever they please, or on whomever they please. In conclusion I would ask you to vote for this bill. It will be a good thing for the Commonwealth. If it was not a good bill I would not ask you to vote for it.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 9, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou who doest all things wisely and well, accept our grateful thanks unto Thee for him, the anniversary of whose birth we shall again celebrate on this coming Saturday: the man who came to us in the darkest hour of the republic, and showed a spirit that shines like a beacon even unto this day.

We rejoice in his great sympathy and his forgiving spirit; in the breadth of his thought; in the generosity of his character; in the wonderful charity that he showed; and we ask Thee that Thou wilt impress upon our minds the truth that he uttered, that it may never be forgotten by this people, that "a house divided against itself cannot stand." And from the ether heights, may He look down upon a nation that His compassionate spirit loved, and never see such a catastrophe.

Keep us, we pray Thee, from civil dissentions, from "White and Red Roses;" may there never be another Mason and Dixon line, and may we always be one, though many. And may it all be for Thy glory and for the good of this people. Amen.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to
On the question
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, In rising to address myself to the bill now on third reading, I do so with the almost certain knowledge that the House will pass it with few, if any dissenting votes; but I feel that I owe a duty to the veterans of the World War, and especially the members of the American Legion who sponsored this measure to briefly answer some of the thinly veiled criticisms that have been directed against this bill.

In the first place there are some who are in sympathy with the purpose of the measure but feel that Memorial Day, the 30th of May should be observed as a memorial to the veterans of the World War as it is to the Grand Army of the Republic, but in answer to that let me say that eight of the forty-eight states of the Union do not observe Memorial Day, whereas it is hoped, and confidently believed that every one of the states will pass a law making November 11th a legal holiday so that it will be national, in fact it will be more national, because it is believed that all of the allied nations will observe this as a holiday.

Then there are others who say we should forget the war. Now, living as we do in this busy work-a-day world where events succeed each other so rapidly that the scenes and happenings of yesterday fade into the scenes and happenings of to-morrow, we as a nation and a people are too quick to forget. I wish we could all have the experience of a banker friend of mine. Shortly after the war he was sent to France in the interest of the foreign department of his bank. Talking with him upon his return I asked him what had impressed him most in France, and I was somewhat startled, but nevertheless agreeably surprised and gratified to hear him say the American Military Cemetery in the Argonne. He told me that as he approached at a distance it had the appearance of a vast field of daisies, but as he drew near those white objects were clearly revealed to him in the definite form of small white crosses, each one of which marked the grave of an American soldier; and as he stood there with head uncovered, with tears in his eyes, and heart that beat faster, he realized as he never realized before, as the news dispatches had never disclosed to him the price the United States had paid in human life, and only a small part of those who gave up their lives lay buried there. That man will never forget, but there are others, and I regret to say some few of them in public life, who have said to us, "It is time for you fellows to forget about the war." Very well forget, if you will and can, all the horrors of the war; forget, if you will and can, the bitterness of the struggle; forget, if you will and can, the crime of the age, that diabolical cruelty that sent men, women and children to a watery grave; forget, if you will and can, the many insults to our national honor; forget, if you will and can, the menace to our independence, our happiness and prosperity; forget, if you will and can, the mothers and fathers, the widows and the little children who to-day sit in the shadows weeping as they wait in vain for the return of their loved one; forget, if you will and can, all those things, but I beseech you do not forget the day that brought peace to the world after years of fighting and bloodshed, and above all do not forget the American doughboy who to-day lies sleeping beneath the soil of France three thousand miles away.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that it is his opinion that the work of the House is at a sufficient stage now when in the future it will be necessary to hold Thursday sessions. On Wednesdays of course we shall have to hold Committee meetings. The Chair has no criticism to make whatever on the way the House has been conducting its business, and the Chair feels that in the future every member is back of the Chair for the purpose of assisting the public business to the fullest extent with the end in view that we can keep our calendar and our work up to date. I feel that in spite of criticism the House has been doing this to date, and it is the desire of the Chair to continue this good work.

The Chair will request that the Chairmen of Committees be particularly scrupulous to inquire from time to time of the Resident Clerk whether or not any bills have been referred to their Committees and dispose of them as soon as possible, not in a hasty way, but to take some action on them consistent with reasonable speed.

The Chair has one other suggestion to make in regard to the consideration of bills by Committees and that is this: That where bills relate in any way, in any manner to departments of the State Government that the Committees or Sub-committees appointed to consider those bills will before taking action on the same consult with the heads of the several departments to which the bills relate. Very frequently bills are introduced affecting very materially certain departments of which the departments have no knowledge and it may happen as it has happened very recently that only by chance was a serious error avoided in the passage of a bill that should not have been passed concerning which the department should have had some knowledge. So if the Chairmen of the several Committees will bear in mind this fact it will probably save us difficulties in the future.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:20 P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1921. No. 14.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, February 10, 1921.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Father of all mercies, we are conscious that we need Thee every hour and yet at this time we would plead especially for those who must toil and moil, who have so many of cares and so little of the comforts of life, and yet who add so much to the comfort of others and for the advancement of all true progress. Grant unto them that in the irritating round of day-drudgery, they shall have something that shall lighten their souls and sweeten their lives. May their hands, though begrimed, be not besmirched or soiled with that which is darkening. May the consciousness that they are adding to the common good give them that quiet but true dignity to know that they are an essential part to the uplift of mankind, and may their wants and needs be studied earnestly, and may their good be considered in the light of the common good of all. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO APPOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PRICE OF ANTHRACITE COAL.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

Providing for the appointment of a Commission to investigate the price of anthracite coal and the distribution and marketing thereof with a view to a possible reduction in the price thereof; authorizing the Commission to appoint a secretary and stenographers and to fix their salaries; empowering the Commission to issue subpoenas and fixing the penalty for failure to obey such subpoenas; authorizing and empowering the said Commission to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall act as its attorney and make a report of its findings and recommendations thereon to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Whereas attention has been directed to the abnormally high prices of anthracite coal prevailing in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas there appears to be no justification for the said high prices and the public welfare and interest demands that the reasons and causes of the said high prices be immediately investigated and ascertained so that appropriate action may be taken by the present Legislature with a view of effecting a reduction in the said high prices.

Now therefore be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That a Commission to investigate the prices of anthracite coal prevailing in this Commonwealth and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof, shall be immediately appointed.

The said Commission shall consist of five members and shall be appointed as follows: Two of the members thereof shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, two of the members thereof by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and one member thereof by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The said Commission shall organize immediately upon its appointment and elect its officers. The members of the said Commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be allowed all actual and necessary expenses in the performance of their duties. The Commission is authorized to appoint a secretary and one or more stenographers and to fix the salaries of the said appointees, which, together with the expenses of the Commission shall be paid out of the appropriation to be hereafter made for that purpose.

It shall be the duty of the said Commission to make a full, thorough and searching investigation of the prices of anthracite coal and the manner of its distribution and the cause or causes, reason or reasons for the abnormally high prices thereof presently prevailing. It shall have power in any manner in which it may deem advisable to thoroughly investigate the marketing thereof with a view of obtaining a possible reduction in the prices thereof.

For the purposes of enabling the said Commission to carry out the provisions of this resolution, it is authorized and empowered to sit in any part of this Commonwealth and it shall also have power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and other evidence, and for such purposes the Commission may issue subpoenas signed by the president thereof and cause the same to be served in any part of the Commonwealth.

If any witness shall refuse to testify to any fact within his knowledge or to produce any book or books, paper or papers within his possession or under his control, the secretary of the Commission shall forthwith report the facts of such refusal to the Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein such witness resides or wherein his or her attendance was required, and if the Court shall determine that the testimony or other evidence required of such witness is legal and competent then said Court shall make an order upon such witness commanding him or her to testify or to produce such book or books, paper or papers or both, or other evidence as the case may be. If such witness shall thereafter refuse to testify or to produce books or papers or other evidence as aforesaid, then the said Court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the County jail for contempt.

The said Commission is authorized and empowered to call upon the Attorney-General of this Commonwealth to designate who shall be the attorney for the Commission and who shall advise the Commission upon the request of any member thereof.

The said Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendation to the present session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

RESOLUTION FAVORING THE ADOPTION OF THE FORDNEY BONUS BILL.

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

Whereas: There is at present pending before the Congress of the United States a measure known as the Fordney Bonus Bill, providing for the payment by the Federal Government of a bonus to the soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States who served in the World War; and

Whereas: The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ranks second among all the States of the Union in the number of men and women furnished for the national armed forces; and

Whereas: A total of three hundred seventy thousand nine hundred sixty-one residents and citizens of Pennsylvania would be entitled to benefit by the adoption of the Fordney Bonus Bill; and

Whereas: These men and women unselfishly gave their time and their energy to the service of their country, abandoning positions of profit or the pursuit of professions or business; and in many cases forfeiting their lives or health; and

Whereas: The compensation received by them in the service was inadequate from every standpoint, and in many cases was insufficient even to meet the legal obligations of the individual, now therefore:

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby urges upon the Senators and Congressmen representing the people of this Commonwealth in the Congress of the United States, the necessity and the desirability of adopting said Fordney Bonus Bill, and of enacting the same into law.

The General Assembly further requests said Senators and Representatives to vote for and to use every influence at their command to bring about the final adoption of said measure; and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Honorable Boies Penrose and Honorable Philander C. Knox, United States Senators from Pennsylvania, and to each Congressman representing this Commonwealth in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPROPRIATION BEING KEPT WITHIN THE ESTIMATED REVENUES.

Mr. HESS offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

Whereas, the outcome of the war has brought world-wide, chaotic, financial and industrial conditions most acutely reflected in our own National, State and Business affairs, and

Whereas, our Agricultural, Manufacturing, Merchandising and Transportation interests have met with great loss, due to enormous imports, production costs, price readjustments and the burdens of excessive taxation, and

Whereas, millions of our workmen are unemployed and without purchasing power, thereby making more intense the universal deplorable situation, and

Whereas, in the rehabilitation of our financial and industrial normalcy the institutions and business interests of Pennsylvania will be called upon for a large share in coming Federal taxation, and

Whereas, only through the most stringent retrenchment and economy, in every Government Department in National and State, can we meet all necessary demands and maintain solvency and unimpaired credit, and

Whereas, it is now a question of not how much we can raise but how little we should spend, therefore, be it

Resolved, that all appropriation bills, and bills carrying appropriations, should be most carefully scrutinized by the Appropriation Committee of this House, to the end that they be kept within the estimated revenues forming the biennial incomes for the two fiscal years of the Commonwealth for which appropriations are to be made.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. ALEXANDER offered a resolution, which was twice read as follows:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

PROVIDING THAT THE DATE OF THE FINAL ADJOURNMENT OF THE SESSION OF 1921 OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA BE POSTPONED UNTIL A PERIOD OF FIFTEEN DAYS SHALL HAVE ELAPSED AFTER ALL APPROPRIATION BILLS SHALL HAVE BEEN PRESENTED TO THE GOVERNOR AFTER THE SAME SHALL HAVE BEEN FINALLY ACTED UPON BY BOTH HOUSES.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) that the final adjournment of the session of 1921 of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall not take place until a period of fifteen days shall have elapsed after all Appropriation bills shall have been presented to the Governor, after the same shall have been finally acted upon by both Houses of the General Assembly.

On the question will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. ALEXANDER offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

A RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, REQUESTING AN ITEMIZED STATEMENT OF THE ACCOUNT IN THE OFFICE OF THE HONORABLE CHARLES A. SNYDER, AUDITOR GENERAL, SHOWING THE EXPENDITURES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS FROM MAY 31ST, 1919, TO DATE.

Resolved, That the Honorable Charles A. Snyder, Auditor General, is hereby requested to furnish to the House of Representatives a sworn, itemized statement showing the expenditures of the Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from May 31st, 1919, to date, as shown by the records of the office of the said Auditor General.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Resolution?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. JEFFERSON W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, there is at the present about to come before the House a very important bill. It has been before the House at one time and it is known as the deficiency bill. I think so that the House may have knowledge of one of the items, and the most important item in that bill it is no more than right that the men of this House should know why and how this deficiency is made up. It is not a trick of anybody's. It is only proper that this House know, and they have a right to know how to vote intelligently on a bill carrying a deficiency of three million five hundred thousand dollars, and all this is doing is asking the Auditor General to give to this House that information to which this House is entitled. There is no reason, no reason under the sun, why this resolution should be referred to the Appropriations Committee. That is no place for it. There is no function in this resolution for the Appropriations Committee. It is merely for the information of this House so that when that deficiency bill does come before the House again everyone of us will know as we have a right to know, so that we can intelligentiy vote on that bill, and I ask this House to adopt this resolution as presented.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the general deficiency bill is now before the Appropriations Committee for final consideration, and I believe every member of that Committee is devoting his honest work and intention in seeing that that is thoroughly complied with, I think that is the only proper place for this resolution to go while the Appropriations Committee is considering this general deficiency bill covering all departments of the Commonwealth, and it should go to that committee for consideration.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I cannot see any reason for referring any resolution of this kind to the Appropriations Committee. The Appropriations Committee has full power to ask for an itemized statement from any department that asks for an appropriation and I am informed that there are statements being furnished to the Appropriations Committee. I think we have confidence in the work of that committee, the same as we have in all of the committees that have been appointed by the Speaker, and I believe that when the Appropriations Committee is through with its work and recommends a bill to this body to act upon that you find it in proper shape and will be able to vote for it. I therefore think that this resolution should go to the Appropriations Committee where it belongs.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, there are fifty-four members of this House on the Appropriation Committee, and the investigation being made by that Appropriation Committee at the present time on the Deficiency Bill is behind closed doors. I informed some of the committee that I would like to be present to hear the accounts as given to that Appropriation Committee, and I had no notice whatever, except incidentally, that these hearings were going on. As I said, there are fifty-four members of this House on that committee. There are two hundred and seven members in this House, as everybody knows. Why anybody wants to keep away from the balance of this House this information, which I am asking for and which this House has a right to know, I do not understand. There must be some ulterior motive; there must be something back of it that they do not want us to know. I would be sorry to think that were the truth; I would be sorry to think that anybody or any department of this State would have anything they would want to hide, and if they haven't, there is no reason why the balance of this House should not have the information I ask for here. I ask now, "What is it you want to hide; what is it you want to keep under cover and only let out behind closed doors to fifty-four members?"

Somebody has said that the Appropriation Committee is the proper committee to pass on this resolution. This bill came before this House at one time carrying a deficiency of about three million eight hundred thousand dollars, and when I asked a member of the committee what one of the departments had in it, he said, "I don't know." All we know here is that the chairman said that the Governor and Mr. Eyre and himself had gotten together on the bill, and it was all right. It was reported out to this House, and after it was passed it was sent back to that committee and three hundred and forty-one thousand dollars were cut off, and yet it had been passed up to us with the O. K. of the Appropriation Committee, and that committee asked us to pass it. I want to know from the members of this House here tonight, who are not on that Appropriation Committee: "Do you want to go blindly and vote for a deficiency appropriation, as important as this is, carrying with it over three million five hundred thousand dollars on the 'say-so' of a committee that reported it out on the 'say-so' of three men, who, after they had said that it was all right, sent it back to the committee where three hundred and forty-one thousand dollars were cut off?" Gentlemen, if that was the deficiency at the time it was reported out, then why was it necessary to send it back and cut out this amount? I ask this House, the balance of the men who are not on that Appropriation Committee, and who do not know what is going on, I ask you to vote "aye" on this resolution,—not on the motion at the present time to pigeon-hole it in the Appropriation Committee—vote "no" on that. I ask you when the resolution comes before you to vote "aye," that you might know what the departments are spending, and you have a right to know it.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentlemen of this House will not place any doubt on your Appropriation Committee. The gentleman from Delaware says that there are fifty-four members on that committee. These members were honorably selected and placed on that committee to look after the financial propositions that come before it. If you do not place confidence in that Appropriation Committee, then you can ask that that committee be discharged and you can put other men on it, and these men will be just as honorable, just as fair and just as reasonable in conducting an examination of a resolution like this as the present Appropriation Committee is. I want to say—and I have had the honor of serving five terms as a member of this House—this is the first time in my experience that a resolution has been presented to this House similar to the one presented by the gentleman from Delaware, asking a certain department of this Commonwealth to present certain facts to this House while the Deficiency Bill is being considered by the Appropriations Committee. I hope you will be fair to the Appropriation Committee and if they are not just and honest to you and to the people of this great Commonwealth in considering deficiency bills or any other financial proposition, then you can discharge your Appropriation Committee, but do not lose confidence in the committee's ability to properly act for the best interests of this Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ALEXANDER and Mr. HAINES and were as follows:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO BURIAL OF ONE OF AMERICA'S UNKNOWN DEAD IN INDEPENDENCE SQUARE.

Mr. GOLDER offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

Whereas, Other nations allied with the United States have signally honored those who gave their lives in defense of their country, and

Whereas, It is most befitting that the United States should likewise pay high tribute to the soldiers who fought and died with our allies in defense of civilization and democracy, and

Whereas, There is no more sacred or hallowed spot in the United States for the interment of one of America's heroes than Independence Square, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the President and Congress of the United States be requested to select Independence Square, Philadelphia, as the place of burial of one of America's unknown dead, who made the supreme sacrifice during the late World War,

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to Hon. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, and to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. ALEXANDER offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

Whereas: Section seven of the Act of April eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred nineteen, entitled "An act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; defining the powers and duties of the Governor, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer, in relation thereto; making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the payment of interest on, and the redemption of, such bonds by the Sinking Fund Commission; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act," requires the Governor, during the biennial sessions of the General Assembly, to give to the General Assembly full information in relation to the issuing of bonds under the provisions of the above act, to enable the General Assembly to provide by appropriation the moneys necessary for the sinking fund for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives respectfully request the Governor of the Commonwealth to furnish to it the information required by the said Act of April eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and that there be included in such information, in addition to any other information, a statement showing (a) the number of bonds issued under the authority of said act, (b) the denominations of said bonds, (c) the rate of interest thereon, (d) the price at which said bonds were sold, (e) the manner in which said bonds were sold, (f) how said bonds were advertised for sale, (g) who were the purchasers of said bonds and who are the present holders thereof, as shown by the transfer books, (h) whether or not any agreements have been entered into for the refunding of any loans heretofore made under the authority of said act, and the issuing of bonds to holders of present loans at higher rates of interest, and the terms of any such agreements, and (i) any other information which the Governor of the Commonwealth shall deem pertinent for the consideration of the House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, my idea of this resolution inquiring as to the bonds issued and the rate of interest is because that I find that the members of the House, especially the new members, do not understand and have no information as to the amount of bonds that have been issued. I do not think for a moment that the Governor would hesitate to give this information, in fact I have heard that he would be glad to give the House this information at any time, as required under this act. I would therefore request that you vote for this resolution so that members of this House may know just the circumstances, just how many bonds have been issued ,an dthe rate of interest. There has been a rumor that a certain agreement was entered into relative to eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds that have been issued. I only ask in this resolution that His Excellency, the Governor, give us this information. It seems to me only just and proper that we have this information.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that unanimous consent has not been given to the consideration of this resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. As the resolution is one calling for information from the head of a department, it does not lie over under the rules. The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, in opposing this resolution I do so for the reason that it is absolutely unnecessary. We have before us to-night on third reading the bill introduced by Senator Eyre, known as Senate Bill No. 33, which provides that the rate of interest on State bonds shall not exceed six per cent. and it seems to me that if we go into a proper examination of that bill, this resolution is unnecessary. Regarding the last remark of the gentleman from Delaware relative to the eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars bonds and an agreement entered into thereon, the agreement is found in the bond itself, the bonds being issued for three years at four and a half per cent. That is the only agreement relative to those bonds, and there is no reason therefore, for the investigation of something that in my mind is futile. It will only serve to take up time. The road program is tied up until the Legislature of this State passes that resolution to give the powers that are in power the right to sell these bonds at a rate of interest that will compare with other states, and if we will take this matter up when we consider the bill introduced by Senator Eyre we will get all the necessary facts that will show to the members of this House that the Governor's plan is a proper one and a legitimate one and that he only wants to play fair with the road program of this State.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. James A. Walker) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A WALKER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia in what stage of the proceedings of this House was there presented to the members of the House a financial report showing what the Commonwealth has received and what has been spent and how it has been spent; and what are the balances remaining in the various items and what are the balances in the various amounts and what we should receive at any time corresponding to some extent with the annual report of a corporation?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, my answer is, from my recollection of two prior sessions, we received a double report: one from the State Treasurer and one from the Auditor General showing the entire financial transaction of this great Commonwealth, and these reports, I take it, will shortly be in our hands.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask, would it not be better action for us to delay deciding until we have these financial reports before us?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, that is a question that rests with the wisdom of the House, if we have no faith in the reports in the financial reports of the Commonwealth and it may be examined into and examined thoroughly.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. James A. Walker) will look at the act of 1919, passed in the last session of this Legislature, he will see that there was a call for a statement relative to the issue of bonds by the Governor. I think and cannot help but think that I have the welfare of the road building proposition of the State of Pennsylvania just as much at heart as my friend Mr. Walker. I think I worked just as hard for the loan at the beginning of the year as Mr. Walker, and I am still interested, but I am interested to the extent that at the present time before voting on a bond issue raising the rate of interest from four and one-half to six per cent. I think this House should know just how these bonds are being sold. That is what this resolution asks for; whether or not it is possible to issue these bonds at four and one-half or five per cent. Other municipalities are doing it, and what the objection is I don't know. I am sure that the Governor has no objection to give us this information. I am sure that he has nothing to hide and why anybody should be standing here trying and endeavoring to keep it back I don't understand. I ask that this resolution, as seconded, be adopted by the House.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the act of 1919 makes reference to the statement from the Governor that there is some provision in that act as to when that statement shall be made during the coming session—that is, the present session, so that the Governor is acting within the law and within his constitutional prerogative in holding that back until such proper time when, in his executive wisdom, shall be sufficient time for the members of this House to secure the information referred to in this resolution. The Governor is not attempting to play any kind of a trick on this House or on the Senate. I feel satisfied that the proper time that information will be given and that we will get it, for the Governor has stood four square with the people of this Commonwealth since his election to office and he will be fair in this and I think it is a poor piece of business to attempt to force him to do it under this resolution. Under the constitution, he has a perfect right to do what he has done, under the act of 1919, and as this resolution is in the nature of an inquisitorial act, we ought to vote it down.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I deprecate any attempt to make the resolution seem to be a criticism of the Governor or a criticism of any of the executive officers of the Commonwealth. It is purely a question of what is a proper business order in doing things. It does seem to me that we ought to have, as members of this House, full financial information before we proceed to pass on financial problems for the Commonwealth. I have not the slightest doubt that the Governor himself, being a business man, is in favor of doing so himself, and as he is familiar with business methods, will agree with us in this point of view. It seems to me that we ought to request and secure full financial information and then with that we can go ahead with our financial problems intelligently.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this is one of the legislative bills of the Commonwealth, I do not think that we should take it upon ourselves to take the powers of the executive. This legislative department gave the Governor and other executive members of this State Government certain powers to dispose of these bonds. We also directed them to make a report. That report will come in, in due time, as the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. James A. Walker) has said. Until that time I don't see any necessity for passing this resolution.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say to Mr. Walker that it seems to me that he is disturbing himself about a matter that is not before this House. It was not the intention of any one to criticise the Governor one way or the other. It is a matter of the right of this House to know the circumstances of this bond issue, and I see no reason why the Governor should object to a resolution of this kind or why he would not be willing to give such information, because he is not accused of anything, and I do not understand what the gentleman from Philadelphia is thinking about. I have not accused the Governor of any crooked dealing or of not playing fair with the House; I am asking only for information that is of the utmost importance to this House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION NO. 2.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call up House Resolution No. 2, file folio No. 149.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved That April seventh is hereby fixed as the last day for the introduction of bills in the House of Representatives for the session of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I rather fear that at this time in the session we are scarcely in a position to consist [illegible]

House to the adoption of April 7th as the last day on which bills can be introduced, and I move you, Mr. Speaker, that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, if this resolution is adopted, I desire to know whether if a member after the seventh of April desires to introduce a bill he will have to have the unanimous consent of the House.

Mr. SPEAKER. He will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, then I agree with the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, that this resolution should be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, the introduction of this resolution was not because of any haphazard consideration. It was a resolution prepared by the Honorable gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough, together with a petition to the members on the floor and asking their consideration in support of such a resolution. This resolution has the endorsement of one hundred and twenty-one members of this House, and I can see no reason why this resolution should be referred to the Committee on Rules, and there possibly be stifled, with all due respect to the members of that Committee. The Governor of this Commonwealth in his message at the beginning of this session informed this Assembly that it was his desire and wish that progress be made on the introduction of bills and an early adjournment. Only last week I had a conference with the Governor and he again assured me that an early adjournment was desired by him and he likewise informed me that the majority of bills in which the administration was vitally interested would be introduced possibly this week and during the last of the following week. Now if that is true the mere matter of fact of setting a day, the last time at which bills may be introduced is not going to disturb the working apparatus of the House, but it is going to stimulate it. We come many miles and we are paying an excessive railroad rate, and we are paying an excessive hotel rate, and we travel back and forth each week and when we are here let us work while we are here. If we work earnestly in the fulfilment of the desire of the organization of this House, and keep the wheels in motion, there is no reason why all the legislation that will be recommended for consideration in this House cannot be presented so that we can adjourn by the 28th of April and that certainly should be sufficient time for each man and member of this Assembly, if he is sufficiently interested in legislation. If it should happen perchance that legislation might be necessary, remedial or otherwise, it still remains within the perogatives of the Senate to introduce that bill there and bring it over here. I hope gentlemen that you will sustain your endorsement of this resolution and vote against referring it to the Rules Committee.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. With pleasure.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny inform this House how it will be possible to introduce in the Senate a revenue raiser after the 7th of April if this prevails.

Mr. STEEDLE. I am sure Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that every man in this House has the interest and welfare of the Commonwealth at heart and there is not a man I dare say that would raise his voice in opposition to a bill of importance that would bring revenues to the Commonwealth or would not vote aye in giving unanimous consent for its introduction.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as Chairman of the Committee on Rules I assure you that it is not the purpose of myself, and I assure you that it is not that of any member of the Committee on Rules to stifle this resolution. My only thought in making this motion to refer for the present this resolution to the Committee on Rules is that during the next several weeks the program will gradually unfold and we may pass judgment in a more intelligent manner as to whether or not April 7th will be the proper date upon which to prohibit the further introduction of bills into this House except by unanimous consent. The members of the Committee on Rules and I can speak with knowledge as chairman of that Committee, are just as much in favor of an early adjournment of this session as any member in the House, and I simply submit to you whether or not it is not better judgment to leave the matter open for a few weeks at least until the program has developed a little further, before we stifle the introduction of bills, and I repeat my assurances to the members of this House that this resolution will not be stifled in that committee. If in two or three weeks from the present time it becomes apparent that that date can be fixed, then the Rules Committee will report this resolution back to the House for its disposition.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Rules Committee has stated what the Rules Committee will do. We have seen to-night what can be done, and I feel that now is the proper time to act on this matter, so that we may get things adjusted and have some idea as to where we are going to end. As a usual thing we dilly-dally along until in June and then do nearly all the work in the last two or three weeks. If we get a date set for adjournment, then we will have time to get together and do our work and adjourn.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he thinks that the Committee on Rules is more capable of acting on this resolution than the entire body of the Legislature?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I do not, sir, but I feel that we will be in a better position to judge and pass wisely on this resolution several weeks hence than at the present time. That is my only thought, and in line with that thought I have given this House the word of the chairman of the Committee on Rules that this resolution will not be stifled, but as soon as the program is sufficiently developed and it becomes apparent that the date fixed in this resolution can be safely fixed, the committee will report the resolution back to this House. It has always been the custom that the matter of fixing the date when bills could last be introduced in this House, to emanate from the Rules Committee, and that committee has never acted until the program had sufficiently developed that they could deem it safe and expedient to fix upon a date. The same result could be secured if this resolution were left on the calendar until such a time that the program developed to a point where we could be safe in fixing a date.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the Rules Committee has any inside information that the House does not have.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, the Rules Committee at this times does not have sufficient information to pass upon that as the last day upon which bills could be introduced into this House, and I am of the opinion that the members of this House do not feel that they have sufficient information as to just what the necessities of this Legislature will be to pass upon the time after which bills cannot be introduced except by unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to say that the adoption of this resolution at this time would be entirely proper if the Chair were convinced that the membership of this House would attend the sessions more than two days a week, but until the membership of this House shows a disposition to attend the sessions of this House more than on Mondays and Tuesdays, the Chair feels that it would be highly improper at this time to pass this resolution. The resolution of course, is entirely for the House to dispose of.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chair a question at this time. Is there not a rule of the House that puts it entirely within the authority of the Speaker to force attendance at the sessions of the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny that the Chair has been very lenient with the gentleman from Allegheny and his colleagues.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I cannot sit idly by and accept the remarks of the Speaker that he has been lenient to the delegation from Allegheny County. On the contrary I want to say a word for the membership. The members from Allegheny County have stood by you, as Speaker of this House, not only in this session, but in previous sessions, and when you see fit to ridicule the membership, I must take exceptions to your remarks.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman is not talking upon the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to interrupt the gentleman from Allegheny to this extent: The Chair cast no reflections whatever upon the delegation from Allegheny, and if the gentleman has any such sentiments in his mind, the Chair will request the gentleman to dismiss them, because the remarks of the Chair carried with them no such intimation.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, in behalf of the delegation from Allegheny, we accept your apology. You will find that the Allegheny delegation is willing to sit here until you in your wisdom shall see fit to adjourn this House. I would suggest that instead of loafing on Tuesday night, that we work to complete the program, and likewise on Wednesday. Instead of granting the use of the hall of the House for exhibitions, notwithstanding there are times when these exhibitions are instructive, I would suggest that we use this time to complete the work.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOUGH and Mr. STEEDLE and were as follows:

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God of the nations, we are mindful of the scene that took place twenty-three years ago to-day, when our sailor boys were hurled to a watery death, and that amidst prosperity and plenty and no sign on the horizon of trouble.

Grant that we may not at this day be slumbering on the edge of a volcano that shall in its great devastation be more cataclysmic than even the catastrophe that we have passed through so recently. Help us not to feel secure unless we are in the right, and we know of no right that is born anywhere than in Heaven.

Keep us then as a nation, and grant that under the present conditions there may not be a point of friction and irritation with our neighboring nations, especially in the Orient. Amen.

On the question,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state the point of information desired.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the sponsor of this bill is in the House?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, wishes to know if the sponsor of this bill is in the House.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, there is no sponsor, as I understand it, for the bill in the House. It is an administration measure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate someone who can give me some information on this bill.

The SPEAKER. There being no person in the House offering to be interrogated, the gentleman from Delaware cannot interrogate.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, then, from one who can tell me, what effort has been made to sell these bonds at the rate fixed in the Act of April eighteenth, nineteen hundred and nineteen (P. L. 62).

The SPEAKER. As the bill is a Senate Bill, the Chair will state that the gentleman will have to get that information from the Senate.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask what agreement has been made as to the refunding of any loans made prior to this date relative to the fifty million dollar loan bill?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I have endeavored time and time again to get the desired information which I am asking. I am not asking it for myself, alone, but I think there are a number of members in this House who would like to know. This bill is a very important bill and it is important for more than one reason. In the first place, as I understand—or rather, before proceeding—I wish to state the real reason why I take this floor, and I want it plainly understood at this time. I understand that there has been a rumor and that there is a feeling in this House that I am endeavoring to hit somebody. It is not my intention to hit at any person or any persons in this House, or to hit at any person connected with the administration of the affairs of this State. It is not my intention to wash dirty linen here in this House; it is not my intention to fight any of our Delaware County battles here, as I have been accused of doing. We will fight them out back at home.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, that the gentleman from Delaware is not talking on the bill; he is talking about personal matters in regard to his own county.

The SPEAKER. The point is not well taken; the gentleman from Delaware will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I only wish to show you that I have no animosity against any one or any feeling against any one in the remarks that I am making on this bill: I say that with all sincerity. Many of you gentlemen who know me from the last House know my feeling on many of these bills. As I said yesterday, when we were endeavoring to have the people of this Commonwealth vote on this very important measure I, for one, endeavored to get as many people as I possibly could to vote for the fifty million dollar loan. I at that time told many people and I heard his Excellency the Governor who was then Governor-elect of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania tell a number of people in a grange, the Brook Haven Grange, that it was the intention of this Commonwealth to float the whole fifty million dollar loan on a four and one-half per cent basis. He told those people at that time, and I understand that he told a number of others about that time, when we were endeavoring to get that through that that could be done, and that he would see to it that no work would be done, no part of this fifty million dollar loan would be spent until the times eased, until labor was more plentiful and until the money market eased up. Now that was one of the campaign issues of course and one of the things the people of this Commonwealth wanted to know, because they did not want to vote for a fifty million dollar loan if they had to pay a high rate of interest. Now instead of that we proceeded at the time when labor was extremely scarce, when wages were high and when the money market was tight. I understand that the Governor of the State entered into an agreement with some one sometime ago, I know not with whom, I know not when, and I am only giving this as hearsay, I do not know but I would like to know, and I think it is information that this House should have somewhere. I do not understand why all this secrecy on matters of importance to this House as this is, I cannot understand it, but I say I understand sometime ago he entered into an agreement that if certain financial institutions would take short term bonds or short term notes, some people have told me it was short term notes, other people have told me it was short term bonds and it was my purpose last night to find out the facts, but if they were paid whatever the securities were, that when the Legislature met he would have the Legislature pass this enabling bill raising the rate from four and one half to six per cent, and he would then let them have this loan of eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars on long term bonds at a better rate. Now the trouble with that proposition is this, and the difficulty with that is this, in my opinion the Governor had no right to bind this State in that way at that time. I do not want to criticise him unjustly, naturally he may have his views, I suppose, but we are here to give our sanction to that transaction, we are here now asked to raise the rate of interest on the bonds of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from four and one half to six per cent. We all know,—or before that I want to further show you the position, I read from the act of April 18, 1919

Pamphlet Law 63, the manner of selling these bonds, 'Whenever bonds are issued under the direction of the Governor they shall be offered for sale at not less than par and shall be sold by the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to the highest or best bidder or bidders after due public advertising, on such terms and conditions and upon such open competitive bidding as the Governor shall direct. The manner and character of such advertisements and the times of advertising shall be prescribed by the Governor." Now note you the following: "Any portion of any bond issue so offered and not sold or subscribed for may be disposed of otherwise by the Auditor General and State Treasurer in such manner and at such prices, not less than par, as the Governor shall direct. No commission shall be allowed or paid for the sale of any bonds issued under the authority of this act.

Now the trouble as I see is this, here is eleven million eight thousand dollars of bonds of this great Commonwealth in the hands of some financial institutions or holders, I know not whom or where, but when these bonds are resold, if the agreement as I understand it is a proper promise, and on the terms as stated, then I cannot see why I cannot get the information I want. If that is proper, then on the agreement of the Governor he is bound to sell them to these men whom he has negotiated with, the eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars, and we do not know what interest he is going to allow up to six per cent. If we give this our sanction, I say is it proper that eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars of this important issue should be given to someone, whoever it is I know not, at a rate of interest satisfactory to them, —because it is an illegal agreement. As I say that is the trouble that this eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars is not put up for competitive bidding, it is not put on the market and sold to the highest and best bidder, because under this clause, they can sell them to whom they please and at whatever figure they please. If we make this rate at six per cent. I am going to say it is surely the most attractive bond that was ever known, because any man that knows anything about bonds, knows that next to Government bonds to-day comes the bond of the State of Pennsylvania. Therefore, the idea of raising this four and one half to six and one half per cent, leaving it wide open without competitive bidding to sell eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds, notwithstanding any other bonds in the future that might be sold, and by the way in passing, the Governor at the present time may not be the Governor two years from now, and most likely will not have the sale of the bonds in the future, after that time we know not in whose hands they may come, we know not who will have the handling of that great sum, and I believe and I think we should know before we vote on this bill in the affirmative, we should know what means have been taken, particularly with the market better than it was a year ago, what means have been taken to sell these bonds, how they have been advertised and where they have been advertised. We should know whether it is not possible at the present time to sell these bonds at four and one half per cent. I am informed by bond buyers—I was informed yesterday before coming here that these bonds can be sold. A man said that he would underwrite everyone of them at five per cent, then why should we go and give our sanction to sell these bonds at such a high rate of interest as six per cent. Gentlemen it is no more important to me than to you. You gentlemen, members of this House are the men who are entrusted by your constituents to see to it that the proper provisions of the law are carried out, that these great bond issues and these great improvements are carried on in the proper way, in the proper manner, and that our sanction shall not help to put on the market bonds of this kind in a way that they should not be placed. I am only making this statement to you. Your conscience is your guide. It is entitrely up to you how you shall vote and it makes no difference to me personally how you vote. I simply want to state to this House, as I said, my ideas in the matter. I think it is no more than right, that the Governor of this great Commonwealth before asking the House, if this is a department bill as my friend Mr. Walker says it is, and I have no reason to doubt him about it, if this is a department bill I think it is no more than right that this House have full information as to the condition of the bonds at the present time, as to any past agreements, as to what and how the sales were made, and what the understanding may be in marketing them, that is all I ask in order that this House may vote intelligently upon a bill as important as this bill.

MR. HESS IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I have no authority to speak for the Governor in defense of the bill under consideration. I think, however, that the Governor has been very frank with the Legislature on this subject of the increased rate of interest necessary to float the bonds under the authority of the people of this State on a popular vote of four years ago. I do not think that he has been secretiv eat all or is trying to keep from this Legislature facts bearing on this subject. With your permission I will read from his message which he delivered to this body in persons:

"Last year, owing to the extraordinary financial conditions prevailing in this country, we found it impossible to secure bids for our State bonds, bearing the interest rate of four and one-half per cent. fixed by law. However, with the co-operation of the fiscal officers of this Commonwealth, we were able to induce a group of patriotic Pennsylvania bankers to purchase $11,800,000 of short-term bonds with the understanding that provision would be made as soon as possible for the substitution of this temporary loan for permanent bonds, bearing a higher rate of interest. It will be necessary to increase the interest rate in the next offering, and legislation should be passed allowing the bonds to be sold at the prevailing rate of interest for securities of the kind, not to exceed the legal rate of six per cent. At the moment, it would probably be possible to dispose of our bonds upon a basis of five per cent interest."

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware has asked some questions which I presume have been based upon the fact that he did not know that these bonds were advertised. It is true that the reference he makes to the $11,800,000 is correct, but it is only partly correct, because there is a trifle more than fifty per cent of the bonds still unsold. The bonds that were sold were sold after this happened. They were advertised in New York, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg,—$11,800,000 worth of them, at four and one-half per cent. and no bids were ever received for a dollar's worth of those bonds. Thereupon the Governor, in conjunction with the fiscal officers of the State called together the Philadelphia National Bank, Mr. Mellon, of Pittsburgh and Mr. McCune, pleading with them as a matter of State pride to help this State through in its highway program. These three great groups of men took $11,800,000 of these bonds at four and one-half per cent. short-term bonds of three years, and the agreement is in the bond and nowhere else.

Now, then, this bill does not provide for a six per cent. rate of interest, but does provide for a bond anywhere between four and one-half per cent. and six per cent. depending upon the money market. That money market, fortunately for us, is going down now, and there is not the great need of cash that there was two years ago, and the high rate of interest is not prevailing to-day in the markets, but this must be remembered, that only out of pride and love for the State did these three great groups of men come along and take $11,800,000 worth of those bonds. This must also be remembered, that these bonds are not free from the Federal Income Tax. I have before me today a communication received in the mail this morning relative to four and one-half per cent. highway bonds of the State of Delaware. This communication was from Raymond & Company, of Pittsburgh, brokers, offering these bonds for sale.

Under our law we cannot sell bonds for less than par, and when four and one-half per cent. bonds of this great State go a begging in the general financial markets of the country, then it is pretty nearly time that something was done to compete with the Liberty Bonds and the Victory Bonds of the United States, some of which yield nearly six per cent. being free of taxes, up to the amount, I believe, of thirty thousand dollars. Delaware is nothing to go by

There are many counties in this State worth more than the whole State of Delaware, and this is but an attempt to influence us as to the real value of our bonds by putting such a communication upon our desks. I take it that we cannot as citizens of this State permit ourselves to go back upon this bond issue, especially since they are the first bonds issued since 1870. Yes, and more than that; my attention was called to it particularly by the gentleman from Philadelphia that this State and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts are looked upon as the best states of the Union from which to purchase state bonds, and yet the State of Massachusetts has but recently issued a bond issue at five and one-half per cent. Take our Liberty Bonds; when they were issued they were issued at three and one-half, three and three-quarters, four and four and one-quarter, but what happened? They went below par. Our bonds have always stayed at par whenever the State has issued them, and I cannot see why we should permit our bond to be held down below par, which they truly represent. More than that, $11,800,000 worth of these bonds were sold and a dollar was gotten for every dollar. Because of that, the State program has gone far beyond that of any other state, and our State roads are better than any other state roads in the United States. But the main point is that if we are going to quibble about the fraction of a per cent. if we are going to feel that this provides for six per cent. when it does not,—it provides for the market, not to exceed six per cent.—then we are going to stultify ourselves in the eyes of everyone of our people who believes in the good road program, by saying that because of the fraction of one per cent. we are willing to destroy the State Highway program of this State and allow the people to run around on poor roads.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. James A. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia when these bonds were advertised, the $11,800,000 worth to which he has referred?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot give the exact date. I want you to understand this is not my own information, but information that was given to me by the Governor yesterday.

Mr. ALEXANDER. About what date?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Within the last two years.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Oh, yes, we all know that.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I cannot give you the date, I am only giving you the information I got.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Isn't it true that within the last week Philadelphia bonds sold for 4.80?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I understand they sold for one hundred dollars par.

Mr. ALEXANDER. But the rate of interest was 4.80?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. The rate of interest—I think so.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you consider the State of Pennsylvania bonds better than the Philadelphia bonds?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I would not say so.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION NO. 3.

Mr. DUNN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up Concurrent Resolution No. 3, file folio 365, which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

Whereas There is at present pending before the Congress of the United States a measure known as the Fordney Bonus Bill providing for the payment by the Federal Government of a bonus to the soldiers sailors and marines of the United States who served in the World War and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ranks second among all the States of the Union in the number of men and women furnished for the national armed forces and

Whereas A total of three hundred seventy thousand nine hundred sixty-one residents and citizens of Pennsylvania would be enlisted to benefit by the adoption of the Fordney Bonus Bill and

Whereas These men and woman unselfishly gave their time and their energy to the service of their country abandoning positions of profit or the pursuit of professions or business and in many cases forfeiting their lives or health and

Whereas The compensation received by them in the service was inadequate from every standpoint and in many cases was insufficient to meet even the legal obligations of the individuals now therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly hereby urge upon the Senators and Congressmen representing the people of this Commonwealth in the Congress of the United States the necessity and the desirability of adopting said Fordney Bonus Bill and of enacting the same into law

The General Assembly further requests said Senators and representatives to vote for and to use every influence at their command to bring about the final adoption of said measure and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to by the Secretary of the Commonwealth Honorable Boies Penrose and Honorable Philander C. Knox United States Senators from Pennsylvania and to such Congressman representing this Commonwealth in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heffernan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heffernan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia inform the members of this House whether or not we are going to have an Irish dinner this year?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. In answer to my friend, Mr. Stadtlander, I would like to say that there will be a dinner held about the fifteenth of March. It strikes me as rather funny for a Dutchman from Pittsburgh to be asking me about Irish dinners. It also appears to me as though he will be there with the intent to start something. We want the members all to know that every two years there is held here in Harrisburg a Legislative Sons of Saint Patrick's dinner along about the fifteenth of March. The date will be decided this evening and arrangements will be made for their entertainment. On that occasion you will all be filled to overflowing—with all great deeds of Ireland and her sons and we hope and trust when the Committee is named both in the Senate and in the House that they will give their personal attention to the success of the entertainment. It has always been a success before and I am sure the Committee that has been selected will devote their best energies to the success of the dinner. The tickets for this banquet will be ready when you come back Monday a week. My advice to you is to secure your tickets as soon as possible because you will remember two years ago the tickets were all sold out two days before the banquet, and there were not enough to go around. We don't want anything like that to occur this time. We want every man in the House and Senate who desires to be present to secure tickets in advance.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:50 P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FORDNEY BONUS BILL.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives,

February 14, 1921.

Whereas There is at present pending before the Congress of the United States a measure known as the Fordney Bonus Bill providing for the payment by the Federal Government of a bonus to the soldiers sailors and marines of the United States who served in the World War and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ranks second among all the States of the Union in the number of men and women furnished for the national armed forces and

Whereas A total of three hundred seventy thousand nine hundred sixty-one residents and citizens of Pennsylvania would be entitled to benefit by the adoption of the Fordney Bonus Bill and

Whereas These men and woman unselfishly gave their time and their energy to the service of their country abandoning positions of profit or the pursuit of professions or business and in many cases forfeiting their lives or health and

Whereas The compensation received by them in the service was inadequate from every standpoint and in many cases was insufficient to meet even the legal obligations of the individuals now therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly hereby urge upon the Senators and Congressmen representing the people of this Commonwealth in the Congress of the United States the necessity and the desirability of adopting said Fordney Bonus Bill and of enacting the same into law

The General Assembly further requests said Senators and representatives to vote for and to use every influence at their command to bring about the final adoption of said measure and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to by the Secretary of the Commonwealth Honorable Boies Penrose and Honorable Philander C. Knox United States Senators from Pennsylvania and to such Congressman representing this Commonwealth in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

In the House of Representatives..

February 14, 1921.

Whereas The nations allied with the United States Government during the world war consecrated and honored the sacrifices and the glory of their soldier dead by the burial of an unknown soldier in the sacred shrines of their country and

Whereas It is most befitting that the American people should honor their heroic dead in a manner befitting the sacrifices made by our troops and

Whereas Independence Square in the city of Philadelphia is the birth place not only of American independence but of civic and political liberty and freedom throughout the world and therefore a spot sacred and hallowed and a proper place for the burial of an unknown American hero symbolizing America's tribute to all her martyred dead of the world war therefore be it

Resolved By the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the President Secretary of the War and the Congress of the United States of America be requested to select Independence Square as the place of burial of one of America's unknown dead.

Section 4 All such burials shall be conducted under and in accordance with such rules and regulations as the commissioners of Valley Forge Park may provide

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, after the World War was over, Congress in its wisdom, saw fit that some recognition might be given to the boys who fought in that great war, and passed a bill in Congress giving as a memento of that great war a badge or emblem. To the boys who came back physically and mentally well, a bronze button was given; to the boy who came back wounded and disabled, a silver button was given, but the boy who lies over in France, who offered up his life on the altar of patriotism for democracy and freedom,—that boy did not come back, and to the mother who sent that boy there and who has suffered all the hardships that any mother could suffer in the sacrifice of her boy, was given a gold button. These mothers now are known as the "war mothers" of this great country of ours, and they as a committee waited on me with the thought in view that this great Commonwealth, from which over four thousand boys were sacrificed on the field of battle, should set aside some appropriate place wherein these boys might find a resting place on the soil of their native state. They requested me to introduce this bill providing for a cemetery at Valley Forge. I did this at their request and after they had informed me that there was seemingly no opposition on the part of the commissioners of Valley Forge and it was a pleasure for me to introduce the bill. They say "Another aim of the chapter is to secure a part of Valley Forge Park, which is a State reservation, to set apart as a national cemetery for those who took part in the World War. The advantages of this plan are obvious, the place being near the home of the fallen heroes and on ground consecrated by the blood of men who fought for the same principle. It is hoped the Legislature will see the advantages that will accrue from having this large national cemetery in Pennsylvania.

Many bodies are being returned from France at intervals; during Christmas week the number being as high as 4,000. A large number of the mothers would have preferred Valley Forge to any other place as a resting place of their hero sons. Some of our mothers journeyed to Arlington, Washington, D. C., and reported favorably as to the cemetery, as well as to the aid of the Red Cross and the War Department in handling this work. In two days more than 200 bodies were laid to rest with full military honors, in the world-war section of this beautiful cemetery, and the Washington Chapter of War Mothers keeps the graves covered with flowers. Although admitting these excellent features of Arlington, many Pennsylvania mothers would welcome the proximity of Valley Forge."

Therefore in honor of these war mothers who wear the gold stars for the boys who lie in France, I ask that you vote unanimously for this bill to show these mothers our patriotic recognition of the services rendered by those boys.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that he frequently will refer department bills, carrying an appropriation, to a committee other than the Appropriation Committee, for consideration, before the bill is submitted to the Appropriation Committee. The idea, however, is that after a bill, such as a Forestry, Fish or Game bill is submitted to the Forestry or the Fish or the Game Committee and has been considered by that committee, and is a bill that carries an appropriation, it is the general policy of this House that that bill, after the committee has acted upon it, be re-referred or recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Every bill that carries with it an appropriation, no matter what committee it may be referred to, is ultimately to find its way into the Appropriation Committee. The Chair asks the chairmen of the several committees to bear this matter in mind.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. WHITAKER asked and obtained unanimous consent for an extension of five days on the third reading postponed calender of House Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is requested by the Chief Clerk to request the members when they report bills to report them when that order of business is in order. When bills are reported by unanimous consent after the reports from committees is passed it has a tendency to mix up the records and the affairs generally at the desk, so if the members will bear that in mind the Chair will appreciate it.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou who hast said unto us, "Honor to whom honor is due," grant unto us that we may pay the highest regard to him whose returning anniversary we shall soon celebrate; and may that honor consist not so much in a conscious pride as in a humble endeavor to follow on in his noble footsteps.

May we think of the dutiful son; of the loving brother; of the plain citizen; of the patient man in battle; of Him who was able to deny himself in order that higher and better things might be brought about. May the name of Washington be sacred to us, and may we show our esteem in an honest endeavor to walk in a way like unto his. Amen.
